MARADONA REUNITES WITH HAND OF GOD

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

EVERY so often, an athlete shows the world the possibilities of talent. Every so often, an athlete shows that it is possible to inspire millions among millions. Every so often, an athlete shows the world it is possible to make athiests believe. Diego Armando Maradona made the world believe that he was a superior being, sent down to inspire, spread joy and elevate the potential of The Beautiful Game.

On Wednesday, the Argentine great passed away after a heart attack following a brain surgery earlier this month. The 60-year-old's death shocked not only the football world but the wider community as well. In a year that has brought about unprecedented chaos to the world, Maradona's passing away will arguably be the single most piece of news that will reverberate with the most. Hailing from Villa Fiorita, one of Argentina's poorer localities, he conquered the world in 1986. He will be live on in memories of videos describing his immortal abilities with a football. P17

Cyclone moves on fresh path, skips Chennai, Delta districts | Slow-moving weather system makes landfall at 10.30 pm | Public holiday today in 16 TN districts and in Puducherry

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

IT was a nail-biter, as the severe cyclonic storm 'Nivar' kept shifting its movement and patterns – keeping both public and disaster managers on tenterhooks – until it made landfall at 10.30 pm on Wednesday. As per the weather update received at 11.15 pm, the slow-moving storm is likely to cross the Tamil Nadu-Puducherry coast, 30 km north of Puducherry, around 2 am Thursday.

Despite the initial threats, the cyclone spared Chennai and the Delta districts by taking a new path. However, under the influence of the weather system, these districts received very heavy rainfall. As per the weather bulletin issued at 11.15 pm, "the storm was located 50 km east-northeast of Cuddalore, and 115 km away from Chennai."

"It would take three hours for the centre of the cyclone to cross the coast and reach land," said S Balachandran, Deputy Director General of Meteorology at RMC. "Wind speed would be around 120-130 kmph, gusting at 145 kmph. Even after landfall, the system is likely to maintain its cyclone intensity for about six hours and then weaken gradually." Northern Tamil Nadu and Delta districts will continue to receive heavy rainfall, as will southern parts of Andhra Pradesh.

In the last three days alone, Chennai has received over 30 cm of rainfall as a result of the cyclonic impact. Several areas of Chennai witnessed waterlogging despite high-technology machinery being deployed to clear out blockages. Low-lying areas and former lake-beds that have now turned into habitations were flooded. The airport was shut for 12 hours and small aircraft were moved to safer spots. Even before the actual storm hit, the city lost 80 trees to rain and strong winds.

Addressing the media earlier in the evening, minister RB Udhayakumar said that over 1.2 lakh people have been shifted to relief camps from vulnerable areas in the Delta districts.

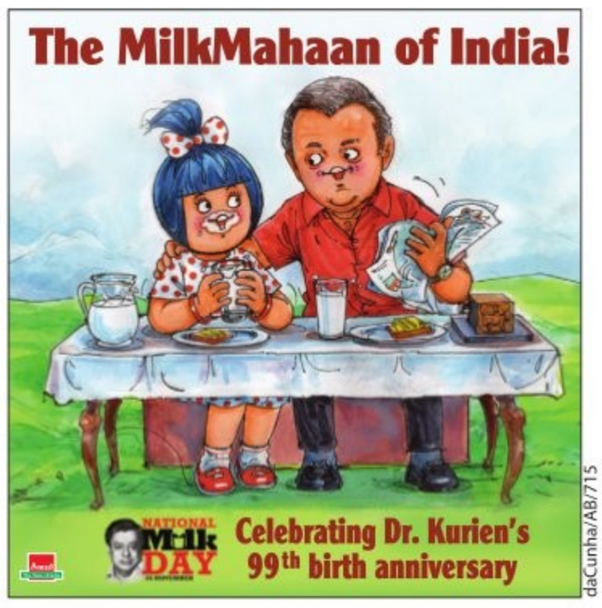
Karnataka braces for Nivar impact, alert in some parts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru/Mysuru

WITH Cyclone Nivar headed for the Tamil Nadu coast, most parts of south-interior and coastal Karnataka are expected to receive rainfall for the next two days and also witness a dip in temperature.

Speaking about Karnataka's preparedness, CM B S Yediyurappa said that the government has taken all precautionary measures as heavy rain is expected in Bengaluru and neighbouring districts. "I have directed the district authorities to take all necessary measures. An alert has been sounded in a few places while rescue and relief personnel have been placed on standby," he said.

The India Meteorological Department has issued a yellow alert for Bengaluru Urban, Bengaluru Rural, Kolar, Chikkaballapur, Mandya and Tumkuru districts on November 25 and 26. Meanwhile, the South Western Railways has cancelled two trains originating from Bengaluru to Chennai on Thursday.



Congress loses its best backroom crisis manager

RICHA SHARMA @New Delhi

PROTESTS PAY OFF, PETE ROADS TO BE RESTORED SOON

Bangalore Central MP PC Mohan, BBMP Administrator Gaurav Gupta visit area; traders hit by pandemic and bad infrastructure

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THERE is hope in sight for the traders of Chickpet, Mamulpet Akkipet, Balepet, Avenue Road and surrounding areas, whose businesses are reeling under twin blows: the reluctance of the public to step outside homes for shopping, and roads not restored after being dug up for various works.

Many petitions and protests later, politicians and officials visited the area on Wednesday, and assured the traders that all steps will be taken up to restore the roads at the earliest.

Bangalore Central MP PC Mohan and BBMP Administrator Gaurav Gupta were among those who visited the area.

Mohan later told TNIE, "The traders have taken a beating in their business. I have asked officials to ensure the roads are set right very soon. It will be done in a phased manner."

The Karnataka Hosiery and Garment Association had submitted a letter to Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa on November 21. Association president Dungarmal Chopra, secretary Prakash Bhojani and taxation committee chairman Sajjanraj Mehta said, "The rain has worsened the condition of the roads, causing inconvenience to shop owners, customers and other stakeholders. The bad roads make it very difficult for everyone to complete their work on a day-to-day basis." The area is a hub of over 20,000 traders who have customers coming from all over the state, country as well as abroad, the letter said.

"Considering that Chickpet is a commercial hub, the only infrastructure development is the Chickpet Metro. We want the authorities to help make this area a world-class business and trade hub," the association's office-bearers wrote to the CM. Chickpet is a central attraction for tourists, who buy garments, especially silk, here.

Export cargo terminal at KIA soon

ENS @ Bengaluru

TO cater to the booming cargo growth at Kempegowda International Airport (KIA), an export cargo terminal, the first-of-its-kind in the country, will become functional shortly.

In connection with the cargo developments at the airport, Bangalore International Airport Limited (BIAL) Chief Strategy & Development Officer, BIAL, Satyaki Raghunath said, "We are in the process of operationalising an export cargo terminal that is going to be India's first. We are going to have it ready in the next two months." This follows a demand from FEDEX, DHL and others for additional capacity. "It will become operational within the next 30 to 60 days after final clearances, checks and government approval," he added.

The airport has also begun the process of putting in place an Air Cargo Communication System, which would serve as an electronic platform for digital interface between all stakeholders of the cargo system so that visibility would be ensured for all, he said.

To queries on the steps in place for transportation of the expected COVID vaccine, he said BIAL was in talks with the state government who were coordinating with the health ministry.

Make tobacco control law stricter: Experts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THERE are glaring gaps in existing tobacco control legislation according to the "Tobacco Control Law in India - Origins and Proposed Reforms" report and experts have urged the Union Health Ministry to overhaul the Cigarettes and other Tobacco Products Act (COTPA) 2003.

Released by the National Law School of India University (NLSIU) on Tuesday, the report pointed out several lacunae in COTPA, such as the existence of smoking areas in restaurants, hotels and airports despite a ban on smoking in public, the misleading impression given by emission yields on cigarette packets, the prominent display given to tobacco advertisements and products in stores despite a ban on such advertising. Insufficient penalties in the law make it ineffective for regulating tobacco consumption and exposure to second hand smoke in India.

India has the second largest number of tobacco users (268 million) in the world. Nearly 1.2 million Indians die every year from tobacco-related diseases, of which 1 million deaths are due to smoking, over 200,000 due to secondhand smoke exposure, and over 35,000 due to smokeless tobacco use.

Some of the recommendations in the report include the removal of the provision that allows for designated smoking areas, prohibition of all point of sale advertising and tobacco product displays in stores and kiosks. The government must also specify that advertising is banned in new internet-based media, and prohibit all tobacco company sponsorship including corporate social responsibility activities.

NLSIU Vice Chancellor Dr Sudhir Krishnaswamy said, "The report recommends legislative reforms based on the global public health treaty, to which India is a signatory, as well as best practices adopted by other countries. We hope the government will consider these recommendations while proposing a comprehensive COTPA Amendment Bill."

Oncologist and member of Karnataka's High Powered Committee on Tobacco Control, Dr Vishal Rao, said, "Tobacco products should be made inaccessible to save Indians from a lifetime of suffering."

High Court reserves order on BBMP polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday reserved judgment on a batch of PILs seeking direction to hold elections to the Bruhat Bangalore Mahanagara Palike (BBMP). A division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty reserved the order after hearing the arguments of Advocate General Prabhuling K Navadgi, who said the purpose of the amendment to the KMC Act to increase the number of wards from 198 to 243, is to ensure a proper governance model. "The legislature has not taken an overnight decision. The existing wards are highly disproportionate," he added.

He stated that legislation can be struck down only on three limited grounds – for lacking legislative competence, violating Fundamental Rights, or if found to be 'manifestly arbitrary'. In the absence of limited grounds, the government cannot be directed to ignore a law enacted by legislature.

IN THE HC

The bench said the petitioners' contention was that elections be held as per the existing wards to avoid breach of constitutional mandate to hold the polls on time. If the amendment is taken into account, it will be contrary to Article 243-U, as elections can't be held on time, the court added.

"Article 243-U can't be read in isolation. The provisions of Part IX-A must be read as a whole and be given effect to. Proper delimitation of wards is an essential feature of the article," Navadgi said.

The bench asked him whether elections can be postponed on the grounds of creation of additional wards. "The moment we uphold the state's enactment, it will defeat the constitutional mandate to hold elections on time... Even legislature does not have power to enact law contrary to Article 243-U," the bench said.

The AG submitted that the State government would welcome directions on the timeline for a new delimitation process, and elections held. The delay was due to the Covid pandemic, he added. Senior counsel for a petitioner Prof Ravivarma Kumar argued that the State cannot make applicable amendments to the present situation as elections are already overdue.

Senior counsel KN Phanindra, State Election Commission, submitted that the Delimitation Commission came into existence after SEC filed a PIL before court, seeking directions to hold elections.

FOR A BETTER LIFE

From rags to some riches, Palike to help waste collectors

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

SAMUHIKA Shakti, a programme to address the plight and improve working condition of dry waste collectors in Bengaluru, was launched on Wednesday. The initiative, funded by Sweden-based H&M Foundation, has the support of Bruhat of Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike. BBC Media Action, CARE, Hasiru Dala, LabourNet, Save the Children, Social Alpha, WaterAid and The/Nudge Foundation have also joined the programme.

"The vision is to enable them to have greater agency to lead secure and dignified lives," said Maria Bystedt, Strategy Lead, H&M Foundation.

BBMP Commissioner N Manjunatha Prasad said work is on to identify the waste collectors, give them identity cards and bring them under SWM rules. There should be no unorganised dry waste collectors and the BBMP is working towards it. So far, 8,000 rag-pickers have been identified and given ID cards. The city, which has 198 wards, has 168 dry waste collection centres and work is on to set up more such centres, he added.

During a webinar on Wednesday, BBMP officials and experts accepted that the rag-pickers know the waste best and help the government save crores of rupees. Though the waster collectors are the lowest in financial hierarchy, they play a crucial role in saving this cost, they said.

BBMP Special Commissioner, SWM, D Randeep admitted that there are gaps in the system and linkages which are being filled. In the next 3-4 months, robust waste collection will be done where waste pickers and self-help groups will be aggressively involved. The Netherlands had come forward to set up 10 dry waste centres and the plan is now to extend it to other places.

During the first three years, Samuhika Shakti will attain six key outcomes for waste pickers and their families — higher and more stable income, improved and safer working conditions, access to affordable and quality services from public and private sector, support systems for victims of violence and substance abuse, and more respect and recognition for their work.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

26th November: The latest news from the solar system is that we're still looking for water on Mercury. Don't get carried away with thoughts of settling there to tend your vegetables, though. As soon as the Sun rises, the heat is enough to melt your gardening tools. In fact, we'd all fry!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The elegant motion of planets through your chart is already prompting you to think about ways to raise the quality of your life. For some of you the answer lies in long-distance travel, for others the need is to stretch your imagination, perhaps to embark on a creative journey.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Your business stars are strong, and looking increasingly constructive. Both on the financial and personal levels, it is clear that choices you make now will be of lasting value, perhaps more so than you suspect. The only snag is that it might be some time before you see this.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Teamwork and partnership are still the order of the day and, even if you're thinking of breaking an arrangement, it should be with partners' agreement. Plus, at work, it will be your personal feelings which count. But don't forget the facts, though.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Your energy level goes through a slight jolt. You'll either be getting back to work after a break, or at least returning to your duties with renewed enthusiasm following recent distractions. This trend will be enhanced if you focus on the areas which actively engage your finer qualities.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You should soon have the perfect opportunity to take stock, and work out how exactly you may free yourself from certain constraints. Above all, you should concentrate on those areas of your life which allow you to indulge your theatrical and dramatic qualities.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Money has often been in short supply, but your new long-term cycle reveals that your prosperity is likely to increase. The first indication should be a change in attitudes. A feeling that you are more prosperous will precede the actual change in circumstances.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Today's stars are generally rather lively, and you will have a number of choices set out before you. The whole question revolves around whether you are ready to put matters of the heart before everything else. If you are, then you might have to make a sacrifice somewhere else.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You may be subject to greater than average mood swings today. It's good to know this in advance, because then you'll be sustained through any low points by the knowledge that better times are on the way. If there's one thing that's constant, it's change!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Mars and Pluto are perfectly aligned in sensitive places in your chart. You would do well to sit back and contemplate your future, making plans for the next year at least. But, in the meantime, you need to work fast to avert an upcoming emotional collision.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Discretion is the better part of valour. You may spare a little time for solitary pursuits, for those things which are sometimes ignored because they please you but don't interest partners. You may, if you wish, leave family spending until next week.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Public and professional affairs seem to be more important than the purely personal. This doesn't mean that you're becoming a workaholic, for community and social responsibilities should also be taking much of your time. Somebody deserves your attention - so don't hold back.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You may take a long, searching look at conditions affecting both love and work which have developed over recent months. Romantic decisions you take now will bear fruit in about three months' time. If you're wondering whether you should get in touch with someone, try to find the right words first.

Night curfew not likely in K'taka

Situation doesn't warrant it as cases are on decline, says health commissioner

A BBMP squad on Avenue Road, in Bengaluru on Wednesday | VINOD KUMAR T

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA is unlikely to impose lockdowns even though states can do so under guidelines released by the Ministry of Home Affairs on Wednesday.

The guidelines, effective for December, allow states and Union Territories to impose lockdowns and night curfews based on their assessment, but Karnataka is not likely to exercise such options, Health Commissioner Pankaj Kumar Pandey told TNIE. "It is an option, but the situation at present doesn't warrant it. As for new containment and surveillance guidelines, we are already implementing most of them," he said.

A local lockdown outside a containment zone can be imposed only after consultation with the Centre. After the nationwide lockdown was lifted, the state government had reimposed a lockdown between July 12-22. Cases spiked in July- September, but began to a decline from October. From a peak of around 10,000 cases a day, the number has now come down to 1,000 cases each day.

The central guidelines say that the list of containment zones will be notified on websites run by the district administration.

"There shall be strict perimeter control to ensure that there is no movement of people in or out of these zones, except for medical emergencies and for maintaining supply of essential goods and services. There shall be intensive house-to-house surveillance. Testing shall be carried out as per protocol. Listing of contacts shall be carried out in respect of all persons found positive, along with their tracking, identification, quarantine and follow up of contacts for 14 days, with 80% of contacts to be traced in 72 hours," the guidelines said.

In the past week, Mandya, Gadag, Bidar, Dakshina Kannada and Chamarajanagar districts performed the best on contact tracing.

4-yr-old swallows nine magnet pieces

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

ROUTINE play may nearly have turned tragic for a little girl in the city, after she swallowed parts of a toy and ended up with severe stomach pain and burns in her intestine.

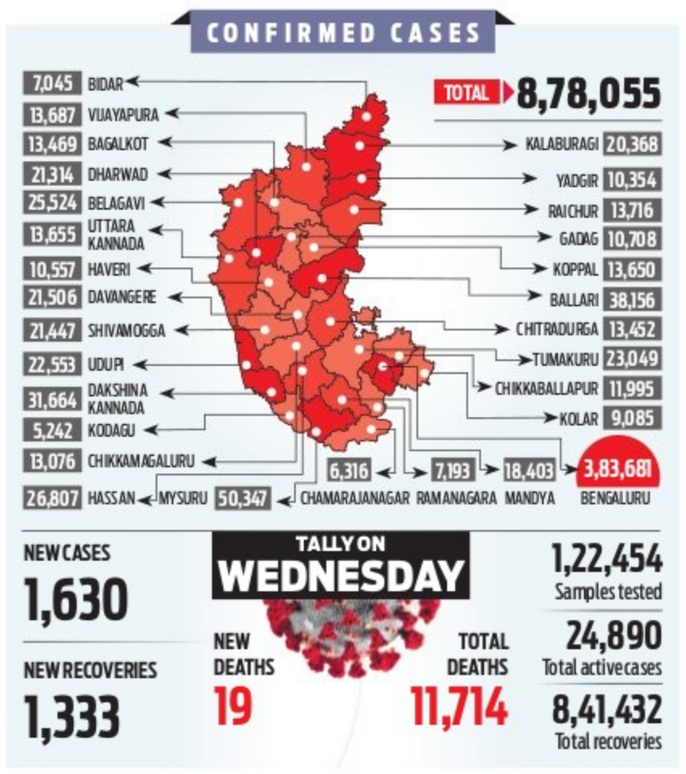
A four-and-a-half-year old girl was taken her to a hospital after she complained of continuous severe stomach pain and bled while passing stools.

An X-ray revealed nine bits of magnets and a lithium iron battery in her intestine. The batter had burned the intestinal wall at two places and created holes. Neither endoscopy nor colonoscopy had any effect, so doctors at Rainbow Children's Hospital had to perform a four-hour surgery to remove the objects.

Dr Antony Robert Charles, pediatric surgeon at the hospital, said the case was unusual as the girl had complained of severe tummy pain. "We were shocked to see that there were nine magnetic bits and a lithium ion battery in the intestine. Until we showed the X-ray to the parents, they had no clue that she had consumed so many foreign objects," Dr Charles said.

The girl's father told the doctors that they had bought a toy with magnets and battery for their eldest daughter who was seven, but the younger child ended up swallowing it.

Dr Charles said. "I urge parents to be vigilant while kids are playing with toys as they are very vulnerable."



BBMP pilot study on Covid patients under way

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike officials are conducting a pilot study of Covid patients at select primary health centres, as the number of people with complications during Covid-19 and after they recover is growing.

The study, being done with experts, includes people associated with primary health centres (PHCs) located in Malleswaram, Siddaiah Road, Ulsoor, Srirampura, Hosahalli and Banshankari, BBMP special commissioner for health, Rajendra Cholan said on Wednesday.

He was speaking during a virtual interaction with resident welfare associations and citizens titled 'Reboot Bengaluru: Agenda to learn what BBMP is doing to flatten the Covid-19 curve and discuss how Bengalureans can join hands with the BBMP to hasten the process'. It was organised by Namma Bengaluru Foundation.

The study is being undertaken to ensure the right treatment is given to people at home after they recover, Cholan said. The results will be implemented after they are ready and approved by the government, he said.

The system of releasing test reports, especially ones where the result is negative, has been decentralised. All labs and test centres have now been streamlined and reports are made available in 8-32 hours. The BBMP has decided to set up two stationary test centres in each ward - at the PHC, and ward office - so that people know where to get themselves tested and obtain results. The GPS locations of these centres are being uploaded on to the BBMP website.

Mobile test units will now shift focus to people with comorbidities, slum areas and others in need.

Cholan also said that while the number of cases is on the decline, the resources available on the ground are huge. So, the whole system is now being streamlined with a focus on identifying and testing people with comorbidities and people aged above 60 as the winter months are crucial, he said.

BBMP is also improving the process of issuing home isolation certificates and ensuring that such people get adequate care. Talks are also on with colleges to set up test centres instead of deploying mobile test vehicles. So far, 480 mobile teams have tested 33,000 students in colleges.

Four districts ready with data on health workers

KALABURAGI: Data on frontline health workers in Kalaburagi, Bidar, Yadgir, and Raichur districts is almost ready, and will be uploaded on the CoWin-20 app when the Centre issues instructions, District Health Officer Dr Rajashekhar Maale said on Wednesday. The process may start on Friday or Saturday, Dr Maale said, addressing the media along with Dr Anil Talikote, who is World Health Organisation representative for the four districts. Dr Maale said that Kalaburagi has 25,000 frontline health workers, Bidar and Raichur have 15,000-20,000 workers, while Yadgir has 5,000-10,000 such staff. Data collected include the name, age, designation, workplace and mobile phone numbers. Frontline workers would be informed of the date and time of their vaccine shot, via mobile phones. Staff at government and private facilities would be vaccinated separately. One facility would handle vaccination of about 100-150 people. Kalaburagi Regional Laboratory, situated on the DHO's office premises, has the capacity to store vaccines for all four districts. ENS

I am deeply saddened by the passing away of veteran Congress leader Ahmed Patel. My heartfelt condolences to his family follwers and tributes to the departed soul. Om Shanti

BS Yediyurappa, Chief Minister

A sad day for Congress. With his demise, we have lost one of the strongest pillars of the party. His contributions are immense. My deepest condolences to his family

Mallikarjun Kharge, Congress MP

Deeply saddened by the untimely demise of Ahmed Patel. He was a long-time political secretary to Sonia Gandhi and a pillar of the party. He is the reason I joined Congress

Siddaramaiah, Leader of Opposition

In my 35 years of association with Ahmed Patel, I found him to be a perennial source of strength to thousands of Congress functionaries. His ability to handle party's internal contradictions had no parallel

SM Krishna, former CM

Today, I've lost not just a colleague but my closest friend. Ahmed Bhai was a brother to me. It is an irreparable loss to the Congress party and the nation

Oscar Fernandes, former Union minister

When Rajiv Gandhi was assassinated and there was a conspiracy to make Sonia Gandhi leave India, hundreds of leaders kept watch outside her house. It was all planned by Patel

DK Shivakumar, KPCC president

His death is an insurrmountable loss to the party. His immense service to the party was memorable. We pray for the family to have strength

KH Muniyappa, former Union minister

He was a man of few words, a good listener, and one who kept his word. He was Sonia ji's trusted spokesperson. He was a man who was feared as much as he was respected.

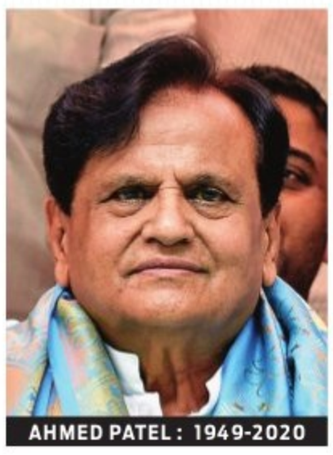
AHMED PATEL, GREAT CONG STRATEGIST

The Gujarat political mastermind always had a finger on the pulse of the people, recalls colleague BK Hariprasad



AHMED PATEL : 1949-2020

I knew Ahmed Patel since 1980 when he was the Gujarat Youth Congress Committee president. But we worked closely from 1993-94 onwards when both of us served as members of the Rajya Sabha. He was a great organiser and will be remembered for looking into the smallest organisational and logistical issues, but at the same time not losing the big picture. Over the years, he organised thousands of programmes and would personally take over Congress national president's events to ensure zero errors.

I will always remember him as a Congressman who knew how to say 'No'. For politicians who are natural 'people pleasers', the hardest word is 'No', but not for Ahmed Patel. He had said 'no' to PCC presidents, CMs, ministers and union ministers. He would never offend anyone, but say it in a way that you would understand.

He was a man of tremendous compassion. I still remember that when one of our party workers, Narendra Bhudania, met with a freak accident in Gujarat and needed immediate medical attention, Ahmed Patel stepped in, got Bhudania airlifted and arranged for his admission at AIIMS. It was all done in a jiffy and within a few hours, the workers' life was saved. He was forever a party worker's man, and no Congress worker went away unhappy after meeting him.

He had his finger on the people's pulse and had tremendous patience. He had no hang-ups over security and would meet ordinary Congress workers regularly, which was one of the secrets behind his long tenure at the top of the party.

When the elections were held in Gujarat after the 2002 Godhra riots, he made excellent arrangements and in those three months, he identified each block president. Knowing that they needed to move around a lot, he provided them with brand new Innovas, which ultimately produced good results on the ground.

MGNREGA: State gets ₹900 cr more

Central government grants 2 cr additional work days under programme, says Eshwarappa

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Centre has responded positively to Karnataka's request to increase person-days of work under MGNREGA by an additional two crore days, Rural Development & Panchayat Raj (RDPR) Minister KS Eshwarappa said on Wednesday. With this, Karnataka will get an additional allocation of Rs 900 crore during the year.

Eshwarappa had met Union Minister for Rural Development, Agriculture, Farmer Welfare & Panchayat Raj Narendra Singh Tomar in New Delhi on Tuesday. The State government also asked the Centre to increase per family employment from 100 days a year to 150 days a year in the 173 taluks declared flood affected by the Karnataka State Disaster Management Authority.

He said the Union Minister has assured that an early decision will be taken to revise employment from 100 to 150 days per family in 173 taluks, and the State will receive additional funds of Rs 400 crore.

Karnataka has also requested the Centre to release Rs 1,119 crore for payment of material bills under MGNREGA, and sanction an additional 90 clusters of villages for development under the Shyama Prasad Mukherjee Rurban Mission.

Shobha writes to FM, seeks aid for coffee growers

Bengaluru: Udupi-Chikmagalur MP Shobha Karandlaje on Wednesday asked the Centre to extend relief measures to help coffee growers tide over their financial crisis. In a letter to Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, the BJP leader demanded "restructuring of all existing loans, including crop, short-term and long-term loans, into one long-term loan with reduced rate of interest". She also recommended that all crop loans and development loans availed by coffee growers, along with accrued interest, be converted into a single-term loan for a period of nine years, with a two-year moratorium and reduced rate of interest of 3 per cent per annum. "New loans should be extended with lower interest rate of 3 per cent for loans up to Rs 20 lakh for all categories of growers through commercial banks," she stated. ENS

CBI grills DKS for an hour in assets case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) president DK Shivakumar was on Wednesday questioned by the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) in the disproportionate assets (DA) case.

According to sources, the Central agency reportedly questioned him on the said assets, worth nearly Rs 74.93 crore, which the agency has alleged are in his and his family members' names, and are disproportionate to their known sources of income.

The check period for the financial assessment of the Congress leader and his family was between April 1, 2013, and April 30, 2018, when Shivakumar was Cabinet minister, the CBI had stated. The agency had registered a preliminary inquiry against Shivakumar and other individuals in March 2020.

Shivakumar was questioned for an hour at the CBI office in Bengaluru, and allowed to leave. In the evening, Shivakumar left for Ahmedabad to pay his last respects to late Congress MP Ahmed Patel, who passed away early Wednesday morning due to post-Covid complications.

The Central agency had, on November 19, summoned Shivakumar to appear on Monday. However, he was allowed to appear on Wednesday as he was away from Bengaluru on party work in North Karnataka.

On October 5, the CBI had conducted raids at 14 locations — nine in Karnataka, four in Delhi and one in Mumbai — which were reportedly linked to Shivakumar and his brother DK Suresh, and allegedly recovered around Rs 57 lakh cash during the searches.

Shivakumar is facing a slew of cases by the Income Tax (I-T) Department and Directorate of Enforcement (ED) in connection with the disproportionate assets. He was arrested on September 3, 2019, under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, and released on October 24.

Before appearing for questioning at the CBI office, Shivakumar termed the probe against him as 'political vendetta'. "I have not done anything wrong and will cooperate with the investigation," he added.

Bhushan slams backdoor entry into Council

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

ELECTING or nominating disqualified candidates to the Legislative Council amounts to "back-door entry", senior counsel Prashanth Bhushan argued before the Karnataka High Court on Wednesday.

He made the submission before a division bench comprising Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty, which was hearing a batch of PILs questioning the election and nomination of R Shankar, N Nagaraj and A H Vishwanath to the upper house.

IN THE HC

Representing the petitioners, Bhushan also cited a Supreme Court judgement which upheld the disqualification of the three politicians by the Speaker. Therefore, they could not be elected or nominated to the Legislative Council, he said.

The bench adjourned the hearing to Thursday as the Advocate General sought time to make counter arguments.

A H Vishwanath (nominated) and MTB Nagaraj lost in the December bypolls, while Shankar did not contest.

The petitioners contended that their nomination/election to the upper house was done with the intention of inducting them into the Cabinet of ministers. Inducting them into the council is contrary to Article 164 and 361B of the Constitution, they said.

During the previous hearing, the petitioners expressed apprehension about inducting the trio into the cabinet, and the court passed an order directing that any action on the matter would be subjected to the result of the writ petitions.

Kannada Activists firm on bandh

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

KANNADA activists on Wednesday confirmed that they have called for a 'Karnataka Bandh' on December 5 to protest against the State Government's decision to constitute the Maratha Development Authority.

They criticised Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa's decision to form the authority and asked him to withdraw the order immediately.

Vatal Nagaraj, the leader of Kannada Chalavali Vatal Paksha, told the media on Wednesday that the State Government is threatening the activists with strict action if they enforce the bandh. "We are not scared of such threats. We never compromise on issues of language and border. We had given a deadline to the CM to withdraw his decision to form the Maratha authority, but he has not done so far. We have held discussions with other Kannada organisations and asked them to participate in the bandh. We urge all commercial establishments to shut that day."

Extending support to the bandh, the Taxi Owners' Association said that cab services will be completely shut between 6 am and 6 pm. The Karnataka Rajkumar Sene has decided to shut Rajajinagar completely.

Two months ago, the city saw massive traffic jams after farmer, Kannada and Dalit groups protested against farm bills. More than 5,000 farmers and activists from different organisations had taken part in the protest.

PRASAD TARGETS CM FOR NOT NOMINATING HIS MEN TO BOARDS, CORPORATIONS

Mysuru: Veteran BJP MP V Srinivasa Prasad expressed his displeasure against CM B S Yediyurappa for not taking him to confidence in cabinet expansion or in appointments to boards and corporations. Prasad, who was at Suttur mutt to attend a function, spoke in the presence of Yediyurappa and JSS seer Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji. "You wanted to come back to power, but you don't accommodate the names suggested by me," he told Yediyurappa. The CM consoled Prasad, saying issues will be addressed in two days. 'List of berth aspirants sent to higher-ups'

A list of aspirants has been submitted to the party leadership and the exercise will be completed soon, CM B S Yediyurappa stressed.

With the process of naming heads of boards and corporations already on, in what is being seen as an attempt to accommodate those who may not make it to the cabinet, the CM said orders for appointment of chairmen to 25-30 boards will be issued as he has already cleared the list. Those who have missed out will be accommodated in the next round of nomination, he said.

The CM also spiked all speculation about differences among partymen over cabinet expansion, and said he had already spoken to Chamarajanagar MP V Srinivasa Prasad and assured him that their grouse will be addressed within two days. Asked about MLA Harshavardhan demanding a ministerial berth, he said they have spoken to both the MLA and Srinivasa Prasad in this regard.

Laxmi's lucky stars: Sonia, Rahul may attend son's wedding in Goa

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @Belagavi

IT could be a lucky coincidence for Belagavi Rural Congress MLA Laxmi Hebbalkar. The wedding reception of her son Mrinal may be graced by Congress interim president Sonia Gandhi and son Rahul Gandhi, who are staying at the same posh resort at Cavelossim in Goa where the wedding and the reception are taking place on Friday.

The Gandhis are vacationing at The Leela, a five-star beach-front resort-hotel at Mobor beach, over the last few days.

Mohan Reddy, brother-in-law of Laxmi Hebbalkar, said that Gandhis have been invited for the wedding reception, but it is not confirmed whether they will attend, as they have a massive security cover at the resort.

The wedding reception of Mrinal and Dr Hita, who is the niece of Bhadravathi MLA Sangamesh, will have only 500 guests because of Covid-related restrictions. The guest list includes top politicians from across parties, Kannada film stars, personalities from different fields and relatives of Laxmi Hebbalkar and Bhadravathi MLA Sangamesh and his brother.

Reddy said that top political leaders from different parties have already landed in Goa and they would be lucky if the Gandhis make it to the function.

The Gandhis arrived in Goa after doctors advised Sonia, who has a history of chest infection, to move out of Delhi for some time to avoid severe pollution, sources said. They landed at the Dabolim International Airport on Friday afternoon and moved in to The Leela, where they are expected to stay for some more days.

Most of Hebbalkar's relatives arrived at the resort on Tuesday and have been making preparations for the big day. Reddy said that the traditional rituals for the wedding will kick-start early on Friday morning and last till afternoon. The reception will take place later in the evening.

Recently, the two families held a mega engagement ceremony in Bhadravati, which was attended by a large number of VIPs.

HC to Mumbai cops: Ensure Poojari is safe

The gangster had moved court stating his life is under threat and rivals want to eliminate him

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court directed the Mumbai police to take all safety measures to protect the life of gangster Ravi Poojary, if he is taken to Maharashtra for investigation.

The order came after Poojary moved the high court with a petition seeking protection, stating that his life is under threat and rivals are waiting to eliminate him.

Issuing emergent notice to the Mumbai police, Justice Nataraj Rangaswamy said in the recently passed order that if the petitioner is taken to Mumbai before November 27, 2020, Mumbai police should take all measures to protect his life. "He should be brought back to Bengaluru Central Prison after his appearance before the Special Judge under MCOC and NIA Act, City Civil and Sessions Court, Greater Mumbai, on December 10, 2020," he added.

This order was passed in response to the petition filed by Poojary questioning the order passed by a city court on November 13 to give Mumbai police a 10-day custody of Poojary.

The counsel of the petitioner said shifting the accused from one place to another is very hectic and tedious work, and the state has to incur a lot of expenditure for the same. "This apart, there is always scope for misuse of power if Mumbai police provides his custody to third parties, without complying the provisions of CrPC, he argued.

He also alleged that there is every chance of Poojary being subjected to harassment and humiliation. "Therefore, it is better that Mumbai police conducts the investigation in Bengaluru. As the custody granted would tantamount to illegal custody, the interim prayer of stay be granted, till the order of extradition is produced before this court by the prosecution," Poojary's counsel prayed.

Baig shifted to Jayadeva for check-up

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

INCARCERATED former Congress MLA R Roshan Baig was on Wednesday morning shifted to Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences & Research, after the prison doctor reportedly sought the medical opinion of cardiologists at Jayadeva regarding Baig's health, sources told TNIE.

"He needs to be medically examined as per the prison doctor's advice. His stay in hospital depends on his medical condition and the doctor's advice," said official sources. Baig suffers from diabetes and hypertension. Meanwhile, the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) on Wednesday obtained Baig's custody for three days for custodial interrogation, in the estimated Rs 4,000-crore I Monetary Advisory (IMA) Ponzi scheme scam. "The CBI may have to wait for Baig's custody because he is admitted to hospital on health grounds," the sources added.

Baig was arrested on November 22 by the CBI, and remanded in judicial custody by the designated court at the Bengaluru Central Prison at Parappana Agrahara. The CBI had obtained Baig's custody to question him in front of jailed founder of IMA Mohammed Mansoor Khan, who is also currently in CBI custody, said sources. Khan has been in judicial custody since last year, and was remanded in CBI custody till November 27, after the Central agency told the court that his custody was necessary for interrogation.

Khan had last year alleged that Baig and some other politicians and officers had cheated him, because of which IMA defaulted on payments to its investors.

The CBI had searched Baig's residence and his son Ruman Baig's official premises in the City on November 23.

Waive tax for one year, lorry owners tell govt

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

THE nearly 4,50,000 heavy commercial vehicles plying in Karnataka find themselves in the doldrums as their business has seen a big dip because of Covid and it is compounded by numerous, heavy taxes they have to shell out. The gasping industry has now appealed to the government for help.

G R Shanmugappa, president, Federation of Karnataka Lorry Owners' and Agents' Association, told TNIE that over 20 per cent of vehicles are stranded across the State without drivers and another 30 per cent abandoned due to lack of business. "It is only the foodgrain business that is bringing them the revenue," he added.

"We have written to the CM to help us by waiving off the tax to be paid to the State Government. It works out to Rs 48,000 per vehicle annually. Unless some help is coming forth, it would be impossible for us to run the show," he said.

The Gujarat government has waived off the tax for six months and Karnataka too should follow it, he said. The tax is paid in four instalment at Rs 12,000 per quarter. "We were given a tax waiver only for May and June, but we want it extended for another year," he requested.

The closure of schools and work from home option for employees have impacted their business.

PUBLIC NOTICE

TO THE INFORMATION OF GENERAL PUBLIC IN RESPECT OF PUBLIC NOTICE ISSUED BY SRI VIJAYKUMAR S/o KRISHNANATHSA KABADI ONE OF THE DIRECTOR OF M/s S S V SHELTERS PVT LTD., (HUBLI CENTRE MALL), P B ROAD, VIDHYANAGAR, HUBBALLI

This is to inform to the general public that M/s S S V Shelters Private Limited (hereinafter referred to as the borrowers) represented by four of its directors Viz:- 1) Sri Vijaykumar K.Kabadi, 2) Smt Roopali Vijaykumar Kabadi, 3)Sri Ramesh N.Chavan and 4)Smt Smitha W/o Ramesh Chavan have availed total loan of Rs.700.00 lakhs (Rs Seven Crores only) from Karnataka State Financial Corporation, (hereinafter referred to as the corporation) during Aug-2015, by mortgaging the land bearing CTS No.4614B/2C/1A along with shops in the building constructed thereon in addition to the personal guarantee of all the directors for the due repayment of the loan amount. After construction of major portion of the building, the borrowers started identifying buyers for the individual shops in the building and approached corporation for issue of NOC for sale of each such shops to the identified buyer for sale by paying the cost of each shop fixed by corporation. Accordingly, for some of the shops NOC's have been issued by the corporation to the borrowers by receiving amount fixed for such shops. The amounts received as such is adjusted to the loan account of the borrowers as and when received. In addition to such payments, some payments made by the borrower also adjusted towards repayment of loan.

After adjustment above all payment, still there are over dues. As such borrowers are orally and also in writing, time and again, instructed to pay the overdues outstanding in their loan account with corporation and to close their loan account. Even after such opportunities, the borrowers failed to make payments and failed to close their loan account with corporation. Accordingly, having no alternatives, in order to recover its dues, corporation initiated recovery action against the property mortgaged under Sec 29 of State Financial Corporations Act, 1951 and took over the land and building to its possession excluding the shops not mortgaged to it and also excluding the shops in respect of which NOC's are issued by KSFC. Even after such take over of assets by the corporation the borrowers are given sufficient opportunities to repay the dues and close the loan account of the corporation. The borrowers failed to pay dues and did not close their loan account..

Hence, in order to recover its dues corporation has issued paper publication dated 20-03-2020 in Vijayakarnataka Daily and Deccan Herald Daily for sale of shops taken over by it under Sec.29 of State Financial Corporations Act. Immediately, after sale publication the borrowers approached the corporation and requested to hold the sale stating that they have identified some buyers for some shops and will close the corporation loan account within 90 days after covid-19 pandemic lock down is lifted. In order to give one more opportunity to the borrowers, the request of the borrowers was considered and the sale was deferred by the corporation. NOC for some of the shops have been issued by the corporation for the price fixed by the corporation. The amount paid adjust NOC has been adjusted to the loan account of the borrowers. However, borrowers did not keep their promise for clearing overdues and of closing of their loan account with corporation within the period assured by them. Still there is huge over dues in the loan account of the borrowers with the Corporation.

Therefore, the corporation is further initiating recovery action for realisation of its dues in respect of the remaining shops/property where NOC is not yet given and decided to bring such shops for sale under the powers conferred upon it under Sec 29 of State Financial Corporations Act, once again by advertising in the news papers. Upon such decision, to give one more oppurtunity to the borrowers to close their loan account with the corporation, the borrowers have been informed about the intending action of the corporation vide its letter dated 02-11-2020 and requested to close their loan account within the stipulated time or otherwise the property/ shops mortgaged to the corporation will be brought for sale again.

Upon such action of the corporation for sale of such shops/property, in order to delay and to obstruct the recovery proceedings of the corporation and to discourage the intending purchasers of the shops, one of the director of borrower company Sri Vijaykumar K. Kabadi had issued a paper publication against the corporation in Viajayavani Daily and The New Indian Express Daily dated 20-11-2020 and published false facts about the corporation.

Under the circumstances mentioned above, general public are hereby informed that, the matter mentioned by Sri Vijaykumar K.Kabadi, one of the director of borrower company in the paper publication against the corporation in Vijayavani Daily and The New Indian Express Daily news papers dated 20-11-2020 are all false and not tenable. In order to recover its dues, the corporation is acting under due process of law under the powers conferred upon it under Sec 29 of State Financial Corporations Act 1951.

In order to recover the dues from the borrowers the corporation is shortly releasing the paper publication for sale of the remaining shops under e-Auction in respect of shops/ properties where NOC's are not issued. Hence, general public who are interested to buy such shops can participate freely in such e-Action and purchase the shops directly from the Corporation without any hesitation or without yielding to the false statements mentioned in the paper publication dated 20-11-2020 issued by Sri Vijaykumar K. Kabadi, one of the director of borrower company.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Puducherry/Chennai

WITH the cyclone just hours away from making a landfall on Wednesday, 30 teams of the National Disaster Response Force were pressed into action across Tamil Nadu, Puducherry, and Andhra Pradesh to deal with eventualities. Following a request from the Puducherry government, a 100-personnel team of the Integrated Defence Staff has also been sent to the Union Territory from Chennai. About 50km to the North and South of Puducherry may be affected during the landfall, and hence expert assistance has been sought, said officials. Ten helicopters are on standby, and will be deployed as and when required, said Puducherry collector Purva Garg.

There were 10 boats carrying 60 fishermen from Karaikal still at sea on Wednesday evening. Officials said that they had established contact with them, and are on their way to the Karaikal coast. In case of difficulty they have been advised to reach Nagapattinam, Jagadipattinam or other places. So far, 90 boats carrying over 500 fishermen have been brought back safely to shores. "Each and every boat has been accounted and there is none missing in the sea," said officials. Meanwhile, in Chennai, at least three rain-related deaths and 10 accidents were reported. The Tamil Nadu government has asked all ambulances plying in the State to be on high alert, and stationed at the nearest police station or government healthcare facility to attend to emergencies.

In Cuddalore, close to 50,000 people have been moved from vulnerable areas to over 233 relief camps in the district. The Cuddalore port has raised the danger level of the storm to 10 on a scale of 11. Several villages in the district plunged into darkness on Wednesday evening as officials disconnected power as a precautionary measure. Industries Minister MC Sampath, along with Cuddalore monitoring officer Gagandeep Singh Bedi and collector Chandra Sekhar Sakhamuri, inspected the relief camps here to ensure that all arrangements are made.

Minister RB Udhayakumar said, "Two Naval ships have been roped in from Visakhapatnam, and are stationed off the Tamil Nadu coast, to deal with emergencies." He stated that 1.89 per cent of cellphone towers in the State have been affected by rains. However, as the optic fibre cable network has not faced any disruptions, communication channels are still open in all areas.

The fishing community in Nagapattinam and adjoining areas – which are still recovering from the impact of Gaja and Ockhi – expressed serious concerns about the impact of yet another cyclone. "We have not seen the waves rise this high ever before," said Lakshmanan, a fisherman.

"We faced severe losses during the last two cyclones and have just started rebuilding our lives. We cannot afford to lose once again," he said. Most fishermen along the coast have brought their boats to the land using tractors. Based on the weather bulletin, the impact is unlikely to be severe in Nagapattinam this time.

Lake area opened for 1st time since 2015

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

AMID intense rainfall, Tamil Nadu Chief Minister Edappadi K Palaniswami on Wednesday inspected the Chembarambakkam lake, from where surplus water was released for the first time since the 2015 floods. Speaking to reporters after meeting PWD officials, Palaniswami said the inflow into the lake as of 12 noon stood at 4,000 cusecs while 1,000 cusecs was being released. The storage level currently is at 21.5 feet.

At around 6 pm, the release has been stepped up to 5,000 cusecs. With heavy rainfall, the inflow into the lake stood at 4,980 cusecs. From the Adhanur Lake, 2,000 cusecs is being released to Adyar River. In all, around 6,000 cusecs of water has been released into the Adyar. "Since the Adyar river has a capacity to carry about 60,000 cusecs of water, people need not fear about flooding. The government has taken all precautionary steps," he said. Water stagnation was reported from over 30 low-lying areas in the city, and the Corporation has been clearing it using high-power pumps.

Meanwhile, the Chief Minister declared a public holiday on Thursday in 16 districts, that are likely to be affected by the cyclone. "All government offices, statutory corporations, boards, banks etc., will be closed on November 26. However, all essential services will function as usual."

Weatherman predicts 2-day wet spell in K'taka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE IMD has forecast rainfall across most parts of south interior and coastal Karnataka for the next two days and a dip in temperatures because of the formation of Nivar cyclone.

Director-in-charge of IMD-Bengaluru, Geeta Agnihotri said in the wake of Cyclone Nivar, Tamil Nadu coast has a large cloud cover, and due to this rainfall will occur over Tamil Nadu, Telangana, Rayalseema region and parts of Karnataka.

Temperatures are low in most parts of the state with cool winds due to the cloud cover.

According to IMD, Nivar is likely to intensify into a very severe cyclonic storm. Also a fresh low pressure area is likely to form over central parts of south Bay of Bengal around November 29.

Official said parts of Karnataka will experience rainfall for the next few days from November 26, but it will not be as severe as in Tamil Nadu.

CHENNAI AIRPORT REMAINS SHUT FOR 12 HOURS

Chennai: The city airport remained shut for 12 hours, from 7 pm on Wednesday to 7 am on Thursday, in view of the cyclone's landfall. According to an airport spokesperson, all aircraft operations at the airport will remain suspended. A decision to this effect was taken considering the safety of passengers and the severity of the cyclone. The airport had earlier asked smaller aircraft also to be shifted to safer places, while cancelling 12 arrivals and 12 departures from and to Thoothukudi, Tiruchy, Kozhikode, Bengaluru, Mangalore, Hubli, and Vijayawada.

AMARAVATI LAND SCAM

SC lifts AP HC's media gag order

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

A Supreme Court bench on Wednesday vacated a media gag order issued by the Andhra Pradesh High Court on reporting about a first information report (FIR) filed by the state's Anti Corruption Bureau (ACB) in the Amaravati land scam case. The case became a hot potato as the FIR names former advocate general Dammalapati Srinivas and two daughters of a senior apex court judge.

However, the bench did not lift the high court's stay into the ACB probe.

A three-judge bench headed by Justice Ashok Bhushan issued notice and slated the matter for final hearing in January last week. It also asked the high court not to decide on Srinivas' writ petition till it (SC bench) adjudicates the matter.

During the hearing, senior advocate Rajeev Dhawan, appearing for the Andhra government, argued that the interim high court order barring probe and gagging the media, couldn't have been passed at all.

The writ petition by Srinivas, Dhavan said, alleged malafide

Andhra Pradesh CM Jagan Mohan Reddy

but offered nothing on record to corroborate it. "This was an entirely a political writ petition against the CM and this government," he emphasised. Pointing to suspicious transactions involving Srinivas and others, Dhavan said, "Should such a complaint be investigated or not? This is the simplest question here."

Senior advocate Mukul Rohatgi, appearing for the former A-G, said, "My client is targeted because he was appearing for the (former) CM. This case reeks of malafide. This is worse than Emergency. CBI did not do anything. My reputation is being damaged."

Senior advocate Harish Salve, also appearing for the former A-G, claimed the government's decision to approach the Supreme Court amounted to a vote of no confidence against the high court and its chief justice.

"Instead of requesting HC to vacate its interim order, they came here," Salve argued, adding that it was a case of 'regime revenge' as there was no illegality in buying land in mid-2015 when thousands had bought land from June 2014, when it became public knowledge that Amaravati will be the new capital.

Dhavan rebutted, saying the state government isn't saying anything against the high court nor has any grievances. On the question of investigating the former A-G, Dhavan said, "Salve's reputation as a law officer has been impeccable. But does it mean being a law officer, someone can never be investigated for a crime? Does a law officer or a lawyer get complete immunity from investigation or prosecution?"

Haveri to host its first Sahitya Sammelana

GANGADHAR HUGAR @Haveri

THE 86th Akhila Bharat Kannada Sahitya Sammelana will be held from February 26 to 28 in Haveri, and will be the first time in history for a district which produced literary greats like Sarvagna, Kanakadasa and Shishuvinal Shariff.

Welcoming the decision of the Kannada Sahitya Parishath, writers, poets and the public said the district had been waiting to play host for several years. A number of Sammelanas were held in undivided Dharwad district (now Dharwad, Haveri and Gadag), but no Sammelana was held in any of the taluks in the present district. A couple of years ago, Haveri was proposed as the host, but was shifted to another district due to unity among litterateurs and others. Hosting Akshara Jatre during the pandemic could be in doubt, though the district administration plans to take all necessary precautions to hold the Sammelana.

Soon after the dates were announced, Home Minister and district incharge minister Basavaraj Bommai held a meeting with other ministers, local MLAs, the Haveri deputy commissioner, and district Kannada Sahitya Parishath members.

Priest held for sexually assaulting minor

Bengaluru: Devanahalli police on Wednesday arrested a 62-year-old priest for sexually assaulting an eight-year-old girl. The accused is Venkataramanappa who had come to Chowdeshwari temple in Devanahalli. The incident took place on Tuesday evening when Venkataramanappa had come to perform puja at his son in-law's house on the temple premises. The girl, from the neighbourhood, was playing alone nearby and Venkataramanappa allegedly called her on the pretext of giving prasadam, and took her inside the house and sexually assaulted her. He was arrested and confessed to the crime.

KTR drives his point home with Modi's governance concept

VV BALAKRISHNA @HYDERABAD

PAYING back Prime Minister Narendra Modi in his own coin, TRS working president and MAUD Minister KT Rama Rao mooted the concept of "double-engine" governance in the GHMC election.

Recalling Modi's recent slogan in the Bihar election – "double-engine" government – Rama Rao said: "Modi had said in the Bihar election that a State can develop when there is a same party government at the Centre and in the State. This is applicable even to the GHMC poll. When the State government and the GHMC have the same party rule, the city too will develop." He also recalled Modi's "vocal for local" slogan. "We (TRS) are locals, elect us," Rama Rao called upon the voters, in an exclusive interview with TNIE. Excerpts from the interview:

The Congress manifesto has promised the moon to the voters. What is your view?

Where will they (Congress) get the money from? The Metro is not under the GHMC. All the promises made by the Congress are related to the State government. The Congress manifesto is a joke of the year.

BJP has explained that the surgical strikes are on Rohingya, not on Hyderabad city. What is your reaction?

The BJP and Congress are campaigning on specific rhetorics. We are informing the voters what we have done in the last six years. The BJP leaders, too, should spell out what they have done for the voters of Hyderabad. Instead, they are spewing communal venom and dividing the people. Even for galli polls, national leaders are arriving from Delhi. We stand for a forward-looking and progressive leadership.

Why are you targeting the BJP in you campaign and sparing the Congress?

The Congress is now in a helpless situation. The BJP and the Congress have to decide for the third and fourth places in the GHMC election. Our main rival is the MIM. We have lost five divisions with slender margins in the last elections. This time, we will defeat the MIM in 10 to 12 divisions.

The BJP says it will end KCR's family rule in TS.

The Shiv Sena is a family party. Maneka Gandhi and her son Varun Gandhi, BS Yediyurappa and his son in Karnataka, Vasundhara Raje and Jyotiraditya Scindia in Rajasthan, Dushyant Singh Chautala and his family in Haryana were accepted when they sailed with the BJP. Why is the BJP coming up with new rules only for Telangana? I am a four-time MLA. People have repeatedly elected me.

TRANSFER OF POWER BEGINS, TEAM BIDEN HAS TASK CUT OUT

United States President Donald Trump's go-ahead to begin the process of transfer of power is a welcome and long overdue step. Whether wiser counsel prevailed on Trump is a matter of conjecture but in all probability, he saw the writing on the wall only after he suffered successive setbacks to his judicial challenge of the validity of the elections. If his spate of tweets after the November 3 elections and his past track record are anything to go by, he is unlikely to ever concede defeat. He is likely to continue calling the elections a fraud even after he demits office. That is his right and prerogative, but there can be no denying that the end of the Trump era will strengthen democracy and institutional processes, stop whimsical policymaking and hopefully end hate-mongering. The racial divide in the US is deep and is unlikely to go away any time soon, but white supremacy will no longer have official sanction at least. Merit will determine positions in the administration, not the colour of the skin.

The inital signs of change are already visible in the first set of cabinet choices that President-elect Joe Biden has announced. Many of those he has picked are known to be his confidantes and have worked with him during Barack Obama's presidency. But they are hardly yes-men or women, something Trump seemed to value more than quality and expertise. From Antony Blinken, Biden's secretary of state pick, to Janet Yellen, his choice for treasury secretary, all of them have vast administrative experience and domain knowledge. They have held official positions in the past and know the functioning of Washington. That should hold them in good stead as they try to rebuild America's Covid-battered economy and by extension the world's, and bridge racial schisms.

But despite the years of experience, Team Biden will have its task cut out. Firstly, Covid-19 has turned the world on its head. Secondly, Biden will have to keep in mind that 74 million people voted for Trump, underlining the fact that the outgoing President, although defeated, is still extremely popular and enjoys wide support. Winning them over will be some task.

THE SHAH FACTOR AND CHANGING MATRIX IN TN

Union Home Minister Amit Shah heaped praise on Tamil Nadu CM Edappadi K Palaniswami's governance and his efficient handling of the Covid crisis in the state during his recent visit to Chennai, ushering in a fresh wave of bonhomie between the NDA constituents, the BJP and the AIADMK. Though Shah was invited to inaugurate a number of infrastructure projects in the state, the event itself had all the trappings of a curtain-raiser to the 2021 Assembly elections, with the AIADMK's surprise announcement that it will ally with the BJP at the hustings. Shah's subsequent call to the people of TN to choose between "development and dynasty" added to the momentum, giving the NDA the first-mover's advantage. His statement gained even more importance, given the parallel narrative of the other Dravidian major, the DMK. The Opposition party's anointed political scion, Udhayanidhi Stalin, kick-started a 100-day poll campaign at grandfather M Karunanidhi's home town of Thirukkuvalai. So Shah's intended dynasty barb was also reflective of the unease among a section of DMK leaders of a possible strategy to catapult Udhayanidhi as the face of the party. Earlier in the day, Shah got a rapturous welcome at the airport with flag-waving AIADMK and BJP cadre cheering him, prompting the visibly pleased leader to step out of his car and walk a short distance, acknowledging the greetings.

Shah also had strategy sessions with senior BJP and RSS leaders in the wake of the impending release from jail of V K Sasikala, close confidant of the late CM J Jayalalithaa. She has already deposited the ₹10 crore penalty imposed by a Bengaluru court to expedite her release. Also M K Alagiri, the estranged son of late DMK patriarch M Karunanidhi, appears to be headed towards the BJP, with his loyalist K P Ramalingam already joining the party. Actor Rajinikanth, too, is a factor, though he is yet to play his hand. While there is some noise on seat-sharing within the NDA, it will all depend on how the Sasikala, Alagiri and Rajini cards play out in the next few months. The state BJP chief's Vel Yatra is already becoming a prominent vehicle for the party's entry into the Dravidian den. The churn has begun.

Jihad means any effort to promote Islam. Can love (marriage) be integral to promoting Islam? Neutral and Islamic sources say 'yes, it can be and is'

LOVE JIHAD: LOVING FOR RELIGION

S GURUMURTHY

Editor, Thuglak, and commentator on economic and political affairs

AMIT BANDRE

Robert Epstein, a Harvard psychologist who has researched marriages, contrasts the love marriages of Americans for whom "romantic love is a precondition for marriage" with the arranged marriages of Indians for whom "marriage comes first, love comes next". The traditional arranged marriage and modern love marriage contrast is common in contemporary India. But a new contrast of love marriage vs Love Jihad, which started a decade ago in Kerala, is now pan-Indian and even going global.

Initially dismissed as a Hindutva bogey, it has become a trans-Hindu, trans-party issue. Some dispute the very existence of Love Jihad. But Love Jihad, if it exists, mixes the most powerful individual human urge, love, at one end, and the equally powerful human collective emotion, religion, at the other. The consequences of the dangerous mix, which tears apart families and polarises communities, can be deadly and explosive. Whether high-risk Love Jihad exists, and if it does, how different it is from normal love marriage of Muslim men with non-Muslim women, are critical for secular India.

Love marriage vs Love Jihad

Love marriage is rooted in a man and woman loving each other. Love Jihad, say its detractors, is rooted in Muslim men loving non-Muslim women more for their religion. Love Jihad is not love marriage, they bemoan, as loyalty to religion is the dominant idea, if not the central one, of Love Jihad.

A universal love marriage can be between any man and woman, within the same faith or outside faiths. But Islamic Love Jihad is only between Muslim men and non-Muslim women. The result: It has become an issue between Muslims and others, including Christians and Buddhists. Some say Love Jihad is Islamophobic. But the religionists affected by it insist it is not. Directed by the Supreme Court, the National Investigation Agency (NIA) probed 94 cases of love marriages between Muslim men and non-Muslim women and suspected 23 of being instances of Love Jihad.

It is no more easy to dismiss the issue of Love Jihad. But what is Love Jihad? Love is easily understood. Jihad associated with love is not, given its link with Islamic war. The truth is that Jihad includes war but it is not limited to it. Jihad means any effort to promote Islam. Can love (marriage) be integral to promoting Islam? Neutral and Islamic sources say 'yes, it can be and is'.

Loving for religion

Studies, including Islamic ones, show how love marriage has played, and continues to play, a significant part in expanding Islam. In a paper titled "Demographic Islamization: Non-Muslims in Muslim Countries", Philippe Fargues explains how Islamic nations have been Islamising through love and marriage. Fargues concludes: "Love was now playing the same role in the continuing process of Islamization that coercion played in the remote past." (In Paul H. Nitze School of Advanced International Studies [SAIS] Review, Johns Hopkins University).

In his seminal paper titled "How Islam Spread Throughout the World", Hassam Munir counters the view that Islam spread only through the sword. Munir's paper appears on the site of Yaqeen Institute, whose philosophy and agenda are designed to counter Islamophobia and its negative impact on the community. Munir says that domestically and internationally, inter-religious marriage was one of the four methods by which Islam spread. Munir writes: "Intermarriage between Muslims and non-Muslims has been historically important for the spread of Islam in many contexts. This is an area of research that only recently has begun to receive attention, as most converts to Islam via this process were women." Munir lists the countries to which Islam spread through love. Conversion through intermarriage was important to establishing the early Muslim community in Spain; the early modern Ottoman Empire also offers many examples of intermarriage involving conversion; in British-ruled India, several Dalit women converted to Islam as part of intermarriage with Muslims, writes Munir. He adds that "intermarriage has continued to play an important role in conversion to Islam in more recent times" and gives examples. Philippe Fargues' view that, in contemporary times, love has substituted coercion in spreading Islam is affirmed by Munir. In tune with Fargues, Munir gives historical testimonies to show how marriage was the foundation of conversion of not just individuals but countries to Islam.

Aligning with both, Christian C Sahner, in his book titled Christian Martyrs under Islam: Religious violence and the making of the Muslim World (Princeton University Press), says, "Islam spread through the Christian world via the bedroom." The love of Muslim men for non-Muslim women seems loaded with religious drive. Undeniably, intermarriage of Muslim men with non-Muslim women has been integral to the religious agenda—a.k.a. Jihad—to spread Islam.

One-Way traffic

To make it worse, marriage between Muslims and non-Muslims seems one-way traffic, as Islam bans Muslim women marrying non-Muslims and confines them within the religion. Evidence suggests the ban is followed in practice. A study by the Pew Research Center, US, shows that while a high degree of Muslims accept their sons marrying non-Muslims, the reverse—their daughters marrying non-Muslims—is least preferred or not preferred at all. The situation in India seems no different. In 2012, the Congress chief minister of Kerala, Oommen Chandy, said that during 2009-12, 2,667 young women of other faiths were converted to Islam, against which the number of young Muslim women converted to other faiths was just 81 (India Today, 4.9.2012). The number of non-Muslim women married into Islam is 33 times more than Muslim women married outside Islam.

Kerala's 'Love Jihad' goes global

Given the background of Islamic history, the term "Love Jihad" coined in Kerala in 2009 does not appear inappropriate to the cases of loving and marrying for religion that came out in the state. The idiom gained recognition when the Kerala High Court asked the police to investigate the intermarriages of Muslims with non-Muslim women. Initial attempts to dismiss Love Jihad as just a campaign of Hindutva groups received a setback when the Christian Association for Social Action alleged Love Jihad against Christian women. The Union of Catholic Asian News (13.10.2009) headlined the report on loving for religion in Kerala as "India: Church, state concerned about 'Love Jihad'". The Karnataka government too began viewing Love Jihad as serious. In 2010, the Kerala Chief Minister V S Achuthanandan, belonging to the CPM, said the Popular Front of India had plans to Islamise Kerala in 20 years using "money and marriages" (Times of India, 26.7.2020), again mainstreaming the debate. Oommen Chandy's data (2012) on intermarriage of Muslims with other communities also rekindled the Love Jihad debate in Kerala.

> Initial attempts to dismiss Love Jihad as a campaign of Hindutva groups received a setback when the Christian Association for Social Action alleged Love Jihad against Christian women. In 2010, Kerala Chief Minister V S Achuthanandan said the PFI had plans to Islamise Kerala in 20 years using "money and marriages". Chandy's data on intermarriage of Muslims with other communities also rekindled the Love Jihad debate in Kerala

Christians, Congress and the CPM have varyingly emphasised the issue. In 2017, the Kerala High Court directed the DGP Kerala to investigate the cases of Love Jihad. Later, the NIA reported on the existence of Love Jihad cases. In 2019, the Kerala Minority Commission Vice-Chairman wrote to the Union Home Minister Amit Shah on the organised conversion of Christian women not just into Islam, but into terrorism, adding "love jihad is on". In 2020, the Syro-Malabar Church expressed concern over rising Love Jihad cases. The idiom coined in Kerala has since gone global. Buddhists in Burma and Thailand say that Love Jihad is a tool for Islamisation and mixed marriages, which are means of conversion, are a danger to the very survival of Buddhism. Outdated idea

A solution for this volcanic issue calls for a paradigm shift in thinking. The world is changing course to the detriment of the founding ideas of the 20th century. The perceived death of organised religions is now an outdated wish. The new reality is that religion is emerging as a powerful actor. The contemporary liberals may recall what Max Weber, their icon, had said in 1918. He had theorised that science, which would erode away religion and superstition and demystify the world enchanted by both, would not be able to answer all questions of values and morality. He foresaw the inadequacy in science and religion leading to a fundamental impasse in the modern world.

Even though Weber had thought that any return to old-style religion was an inferior solution, a full hundred years after him, what he feared seems to be coming true. The world is stunningly religious. The religious population is projected to grow by 2.3 billion in 2050, and the unaffiliated by just 0.1 billion! While 1 in 5 were irreligious in the 1970s, it will be around 1 in 7 in 2050—showing a decline in the percentage of irreligious people. Citing this, the World Economic Forum says: "Reports of the death of organised religion have been exaggerated. According to recent research, the growth of religious populations worldwide is projected to be 23 times larger than the growth of the irreligious between 2010 and 2050." Samuel Huntington's thesis of clash of civilisations and Harvard University Pluralism Project 1995, to cite two important developments, are founded on the rebounding of religion.

In a world where religiosity is rising and Weberianism is diminishing, the contemporary liberal ideas seem outdated and incapable of handling dangerous issues like loving for religion. A different idea more appropriate than contemporary liberalism, a product of rising irreligiosity in the past, is to be found. The emerging situation calls for an honest, open and bold debate. Will the distorted Indian secularism allow it is the moot question.

Heed PM's timely call

Prime Minister Narendra Modi's exhortation to the chief ministers to enhance the cold chain capacities of their states for storing Covid-19 vaccines when they are ready is timely. Cold chain storage does exist in the country for various other vaccines included under the Universal Immunisation Programme. But as the coronavirus is more heat labile, the need of the hour is more stringent cold chain requirements.
Dr George Jacob, Kochi

Not time for political drama

It is heartening to note that the prime minister himself is leading the vaccine drive by urging states to enhance their cold chain capacities. The Central government appears to be ready with arrangements for vaccine distribution across the country. One hopes the state governments realise that now is not the time for petty arguments and political drama. They must join hands with the Centre to make this process successful in the entire country.

Beneficial to medical field

This is with reference to Welcome move to boost spending on healthcare (Nov 25). The plan to increase the health expenditure by 5% in the coming Budget outlay may only seem like a drop in the ocean, but the outcome will be beneficial to the medical field in due course. When we compare our healthcare spending with other nations, it is quite meagre. We must slowly but surely increase this spending.

Richness of our heritage

This is with reference to A tribute to the Goddess Maha Kali of Doddagaddavalli (Nov 24). The author's extensive depiction of our South Indian heritage and culture by writing detailed articles for TNIE is wonderful. It is great that he is spreading awareness in society about the richness of our heritage. India needs to strengthen conservation of such cultural gems through CSR sponsorship of existing profit-making companies in the regions so that they may be protected from the destroying hands of miscreants.

Why not local leaders?

The Greater Hyderabad Municipal Corporation elections are for representatives who will work towards improving the basic civic infrastructure of the city. So it is strange that the BJP is needlessly bringing in leaders from outside instead of allowing their local leaders to highlight the changes they can make. It would be good if the BJP presents a clear plan of development before the people and not make this about winning elections in southern states.
N Nagarajan, Secunderabad

Nothing but a gimmick

While it appears that the GHMC polls will be ending in a photo finish with the BJP and TRS leaving no stone unturned, it is apparent that CM K Chandrasekhar Rao has announced several sops solely for the purpose of winning over voters. Free water to households and free power to a select few are nothing but a gimmick that may not turn the tide in KCR's favour, especially as several promises made by him earlier still remain unfulfilled.

Insight into green economy

This is with reference to the article To enhance income of farmers, consider agri-tourism (Nov 23). It ushers in fresh insights about the veins of the green economy, with the inculcation of globally emerging ideas. Treating agri-tourism as a secondary sector, the article highlights the history of the concept while citing economic indicators and pointing out inefficient policies and guidelines. It has created curiosity among readers about new ways to double farmers' incomes. Kudos to the authors.

To pacify the masses

It is good that the Kerala government has decided not to put the latest Kerala Police Act (Amendment) Ordinance into effect and has planned to repeal it. The statewide hubbub created by the controversial provisions in the ordinance and the consequent interference by the central CPM leadership prompted CM Pinarayi Vijayan to act sensibly and pacify the raging masses.
B V Thampi, Thiruvananthapuram

Damage is already done

The Kerala government's ordinance that essentially put a gag on media freedom has been criticised even by legal luminaries. Ashamedly, the ordinance was the brainchild of the chief minister and a cluster of his short-sighted advisors. It was never discussed among the rest of the party in the state or in the Cabinet. Wary of a possible backlash in the coming elections, the government has decided to repeal it. However, the damage has already been done. The image of the government and the LDF has plunged to a new low.
Ravi Mannethu, Pullad

Some sense still left in LDF

It is great news that the Kerala government has decided to withdraw the ordinance after heeding the reaction of the public. It has shown that at least a little sense is left in the Left Front government. It is also good to know that the matter is set to be discussed with all and sundry.

MHA guidelines for December empower states/UTs to impose local restrictions like night curfew in view of spike in cases in a few states

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

IN view of a spurt in coronavirus cases in certain states, the Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) on Wednesday empowered states to impose local restrictions like night curfew but made it clear that no state or Union Territory can impose lockdown outside of containment zones without consultation with the Centre.

While issuing guidelines for 'Surveillance, Containment and Caution' for the month of December, the MHA said the main focus of the directive is to consolidate the substantial gains which are visible in the steady decline in the number of active cases in the country.

District, police and municipal authorities shall be responsible for ensuring that the prescribed containment measures are strictly followed.

Where the weekly case positivity rate is more than 10 percent, states and UTs concerned shall consider implementing staggered office timings and other suitable measures to reduce the number of employees attending office at a time, thereby ensuring social distancing.

Like in October and November, the following activities will continue to be restricted — cinema halls and theatres, with up to 50 percent capacity, swimming pools, only for training of sports persons and exhibition halls, only for business to business purposes.

Social, religious, sports, entertainment, educational, cultural and religious gatherings in closed spaces are allowed with up to a maximum of 50 per cent of the hall capacity with a ceiling of 200 persons. In open spaces, people wiil be allowed as per the size of the ground. The new guidelines, however, added that states and UTs may reduce the ceiling to 100 persons or less in closed spaces based on their assessment.

In containment zones, there shall be strict perimeter control to ensure there is no movement of people in or out of these zones, except for medical emergencies and for supply of essential goods and services.

Contact tracing within 72 hours, says govt

MHA also said that the listing of contacts shall be carried out in respect of all persons found positive, along with their tracking, identification, quarantine and follow-up for 14 days and 80 per cent of contacts should be traced within 72 hours. Quick isolation of Covid-19 patients shall be ensured in treatment facilities and home, subject to fulfilling the home isolation guidelines and clinical interventions, as prescribed, shall be administered, the MHA guidelines said.

PM visit likely ahead of envoys' Pune trip to see vaccine progress

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mumbai/New Delhi

PM Narendra Modi is likely to visit the Serum Institute of India (SII) and the Gennova Biopharmaceuticals — the two centres in Pune at various stages of testing and producing a vaccine against coronavirus — on November 28.

The Central Drugs Standard Control Organization has granted licence permission for manufacturing Covid-19 vaccine for pre-clinical test, examination and analysis to seven firms, inluding SII and Gennova Biopharmaceuticals.

"Though we haven't received any official word from the PMO, we are making preparations for the prime minister's probable visit," said Pune's Divisional Commissioner Saurabh Rao.

Envoys of almost 100 countries will also visit the two facilities on December 4 to see India's development programme for the Covid vaccine.

Their one-day visit is one of the outcomes of Foreign Secretary Harsh Vardhan Shringla's meeting with the envoys on November 6. Shringla, with Principal Scientific Advisor to the Government Prof K Vijay Raghavan, Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan, Secretary, Department of Biotechnology, Renu Swarup and Secretary, Department of Science & Technology, Ashutosh Sharma, briefed more than 190 heads of missions on India's action on the pandemic.

While the SII is involved in manufacturing the AstraZeneca/Oxford vaccine, Gennova Biopharmaceuticals is working on an mRNA-based vaccine.

India is expected to be a major centre of vaccine manufacturing and supply with PM in his address at the UN General Aassembly reiterating India's commitment to make the vaccine accessible and affordable for all. Even amid the pandemic, India has emerged as the pharma capital of the world supplying medicines such as hydroxychloroquine and paracetamol to over 150 countries.

On vaccine development, too, India has organised training programmes on clinical trials for neighbouring countries in which nearly 90 experts from eight countries participated.

Step up measures to report vaccine side-effects, Centre tells states

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

IN anticipation that Covid-19 vaccination could lead to side-effects in some people, the Centre has asked states to step up the 'Adverse Event Following Immunisation' (AEFI) surveillance in districts.

The communique comes as at least two vaccine makers are planning to apply for emergency use authorisation for the vaccines, developed abroad but planned to be produced in India. "You may be aware that preparations are underway for conducting Covid-19 vaccinations in states and districts, starting with certain priority groups," said the letter by an additional secretary in Union health ministry to state health secretaries. It added that steps need to be taken for AEFI surveillance to maintain confidence in the safety of vaccines.

The letter also listed out initiatives, which it said, are essential to further strengthen the existing AEFI Surveillance System of India so that "timely and complete AEFI reporting for Covid-19 vaccination is possible".

The Centre has asked states to involve 300 medical colleges and other tertiary care hospitals across the country to handle adverse events or cases of side-effects on people post-vaccination. In addition, states have been told to keep ready neurologists, cardiologists, respiratory medicine experts, obstetrics, gynaecologists and paediatricians to deal with post-vaccination side-effects, officials said.

The Union government has instructed that each state must choose a medical college to function as a state's AEFI technical collaborating centre. "The clinical specialists of the medical college and experts from the department of community medicine will assist the state AEFI committee in conducting rapid causality assessments, case investigations in districts, laboratory tests in certain cases to find the cause of AEFIs, etc.," said the letter. "These specialists may be invited to attend AEFI committee meetings."

"Events due to pre-existing co-morbidities may be reported as AEFIs following Covid-19 vaccinations," it said.

The Centre has specified that states should also keep enough stock of adrenaline injections used to control immediate life-threatening allergic reactions and specific staff trained to use these injections.

India has been running AEFI surveillance since 1988 but according to officials, new requirements are being anticipated for Covid-19 vaccines.

The Centre has already hinted that emergency use authorisation may be granted to some vaccine makers and two vaccines — by Oxford University-AstraZeneca and Sputnik V by Russian government agencies — may be the first ones to apply for the permission to the Drug Controller General of India.

The government vaccination programme could first target the priority groups including healthcare workers.

'Patel worked hard to settle internal strife'

ACCORDING to sources, he worked hard to settle the internal strife within the party till his last. When voices were raised against the party high command, Patel ensured to reach out to the dissenting leaders who wrote to party chief Sonia Gandhi. Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot was candid to say that in the current situation, Congress will miss Patel even more.

Senior Congress leader P Chidambaram said, "Whence do we find another like him?"

When the Rajasthan political crisis was at peak, Patel was holding back-channel talks to manage the situation arising out of rebellion by Sachin Pilot. He was part of the three-member committee that looked into issues between Pilot and Gehlot.

Patel was part of all major decision-making committees in the Congress.

"The road to 10 Janpath (Sonia Gandhi's official residence) passes through 23 Mother Teresa Crescent (Patel's residence)," said a senior leader.

Sibal, others in Editors Guild legal advisory panel on Press freedom

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Editors Guild of India appointed a legal advisory panel on Tuesday that will work with the Guild on issues of Press freedom.

This comes amid allegations of authorities trying to muzzle Press freedom by pressing criminal charges against people critical of the governments, according to the Guild.

The panel members include Kapil Sibal, Menaka Guruswamy, Shyam Divan, Sanjay Hegde, Rajiv Nayar, Prashant Kumar and Shahrukh Alam. The Guild is also planning to expand the panel.

"The Editors Guild of India is pleased to announce a legal advisory panel that will advise and work with the Guild on important issues pertaining to Press freedom. The panel will help the Guild craft responses to the complex web of civil and criminal laws that are used by authorities to suppress media freedom," read a statement by the Guild.

"The panel will be expanded in the coming days to include more members of the legal fraternity from across different states, who have worked in the realm of freedom of expression and media related issues," it said.

The Guild was recently criticised by Padma Shri awardee and Shillong Times editor Patricia Mukhim who accused it of issuing statements only for celebrity journalists. She had expressed her disappointment on the Guild's silence when the Meghalaya High Court did not quash an FIR against her for a Facebook post that she had put up. Following this, she resigned from the media body.

The Guild issued a statement following the resignation saying Mukhim's case was a reflection of the larger threats to freedom of speech in India. It had also written to state governments on the need to protect media freedom.

Publish 'verified' content from foreign media: PCI

The Press Council of India (PCI) has advised the media to publish only 'verified' publications of foreign newspaper extracts. "The PCI has considered references received from various quarters by the government about the responsibility of Indian newspapers in publishing foreign contents," said the advisory. "The council is of the view that unregulated circulation of the foreign content is not desirable. Hence, it advises the media to publish foreign extracts in Indian newspapers with due verification as the reporter, publisher and editor of such newspaper shall be responsible for the contents irrespective of the source from which it is received."

China opposes India's app ban on 'national security pretext'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

REACTING to the Centre's decision to ban 43 mobile apps, China said it firmly opposed India's "repeated use of national security as an excuse to ban apps with Chinese background".

In fresh sanctions, India on Tuesday banned 43 more apps apart from the previous 50-odd apps, saying they were a threat to the country's sovereignty and integrity. "This action was taken based on the inputs regarding these apps for engaging in activities which are prejudicial to sovereignty and integrity of India, defence of India, security of state and public order," a release from the government said.

In response to the move, the Chinese embassy in a statement said, "We hope the Indian side provides a fair, impartial and non-discriminatory business environment for all market players from various countries, including China, and rectify the discriminatory practices violating WTO rules."

It went on to add that China and India are the opportunities of development to each other rather than threats.

The banned apps include AliSuppliers Mobile App, Alibaba Workbench, AliExpress, Alipay Cashier, CamCard (Business Card Reader), Snack Video, and several dating apps such as WeDate, Chinese Social, TrulyChinese, ChinaLove, DateMyAge, FlirtWish and Guys Only Dating among others.

The quiet sutradhar of 10 fruitful years of UPA leaves Congress staring at a hole

SANTWANA BHATTACHARYA

IS it not a quirk of fate, loaded with untold implications, that two Congress leaders who rose from the grassroots in the east and west would die within a day of each other, leaving the old party bereft in so many ways? Tarun Gogoi and Ahmed Patel, strikingly, shared a personal trait: they were both humble in their ways and conduct. This is a non-trivial fact, for it's an endangered political quality—the relic of a vanishing way of doing politics, where the challenges of democracy and realpolitik were met with negotiated settlements and smooth resolutions. That this flowed naturally from their dyed-in-the-wool 'Congressness', if you will, is equally a marker of that seeming anachronism. It's a legacy which, with all its flawed baggage, crafted politics around conversations.

In a generation where leaders had to prove their mettle through party work, which included slog hours at AICC, Gogoi and Patel took different routes. Patel rose from the humdrum politics of Bharuch to New Delhi via Ahmedabad—making his mark when the party effected a seemingly impossible turnaround in national politics, playing his role quietly from behind the stage. Gogoi went back from Parliament to become a three-term CM of Assam—a stint that marked, in retrospect, a remarkable time of healing.

Much has been written about Patel, 'Ahmedbhai' to all, and his self-effacing backroom skills. Never going after the ostentatious frills of power or ministerial ambitions. Never choosing to move out of that corner bunglow opposite Gyarah Murti—23 Wellingdon Crescent—even when having access to 'Ahmedbhai' was a big deal in Lutyens' Delhi, and the rest of political India. In fact, he would be upset if he was ever quoted or his mugshot used by the media. If those 10 years of UPA were a fruitful decade, he was the quiet sutradhar, his behind-the-scenes strategies sustaining the Congress, its coalition and the longest serving party president, Sonia Gandhi.

Why did Patel choose to be low-key when his rivals within and outside adopted 'bolte raho' (keep talking) and 'chhapte raho' (get printed/be visible) as mottos to stay relevant? Well, Ahmed Patel did not have to seek relevance. Those who mattered, from Rajiv Gandhi's time, knew his worth. But at some level, it also had to do with a deep-seated sadness about the walls he encountered early on in state politics. Once during a conversation, he lamented how the VHP/Modi ethos meant he could simply never aspire to become a mass leader in Gujarat. That deep desire stayed unfulfilled. The last he won a Lok Sabha election was in 1984. Once he lost Bharuch in 1989, in what is still recounted as the first openly "communally charged election", he shifted base to Rajya Sabha and national politics. Before that, Patel had lent himself to Rajiv Gandhi's experimentations — as Gujarat PCC chief as also one of his three parliamentary secretaries. He kept Bharuch in his heart though, returning to it every now and then, even building a swank Congress office with a room for himself around the time the UPA sun set.

Patel peaked in Delhi's power politics as Sonia's rather astute political secretary, with friends across the board, from politicians of all hues to corporates, NGOs and media. If Sonia stitched up the UPA alliance, Ahmedbhai sustained it through his backchannel manoeuvres. His personal ideology sat better with Left politics, but he could swing a reluctant heartland Lohiaite like Mulayam to cement the UPA's survival. Patel's phonecalls were famously awaited. For the media, he was a coveted line of access. Not only because he was part of the power centre, but also because he would never mislead or misinform. If he said "no decision yet", it meant exactly that.

The power he thus wielded would often give rise to folklore and not-so-savoury tattle. But any day, post-UPA too, when the baton shifted to Rahul, a crowd would always form around Ahmedbhai in the Central Hall of Parliament, with both political opponents and journalists making a beeline. Even before he was resurrected as AICC treasurer after a brief lull, when he would often talk of retirement. On his last journey, he's returning to his roots, in Bharuch's village Piraman, to be laid to rest next to his parents. He leaves a Congress staring at a hole in the wall, and son Faisal, daughter Mumtaz and wife in deep grief. Patel was a devout Muslim, and deeply secular, and there was no contradiction in the two. That's what's gone.

Farmers-police showdown looms over 'Delhi Chalo'

BKU vows to reach Delhi after clashes; stopped by Haryana & Punjab

A Delhi Police personnel stops a tractor from Haryana on Wednesday | PTI

THOUSANDS of farmers from Punjab and Haryana marched towards Delhi with tractor-trailers on Wednesday to protest against the Centre's new farm laws on November 26-27, prompting the Haryana government to deploy their police force in large numbers and invoke Section 144 of the CrPC to prevent the gathering of protesters.

The farmers from Haryana, led by BKU Haryana chief Gurnam Singh Charuni, started their march to the national capital from Mohra market in Ambala on tractor trailers, cars and bikes. The police barricaded the route and used water cannons, but the farmers marched on. In Kurukshetra, the farmers again removed the barricades and moved on. "We have to reach the national capital at any cost," said Charuni.

The Delhi Police also denied permission to various farmer organisations to protest in the national capital, setting the stage for a confrontation with the agitating farmers.

The farmers' unions have said the protestors will reach Delhi on November 26 through five highways as a part of their 'Delhi Chalo' protest. The five routes are: NH-1 (Amritsar-Delhi), Agra-Delhi highway (Ballabgarh), Jaipur-Delhi highway (Daruhera), Rohtak-Hisar-Delhi highway (Bahadurgarh) and Bareilly-Delhi highway from Hapur. The All India Kisan Sangharsh Coordination Committee, Rashtriya Kisan Mahasangh and various factions of the BKU have joined hands and formed a 'Samyukta Kisan Morcha' to press the Centre to scrap the farm laws.

The BKU (Ugrahan Group), the left-leaning union, is the largest among the 31 unions. Its activists are camping near the Khanauri border (Sangrur), but did not try to enter Haryana. "We will not enter into a confrontation. If we are not allowed to enter Haryana on the way to Delhi, then we will sit on a dharna for a week at the border," said BKU (Ugrahan) president Joginder Singh.

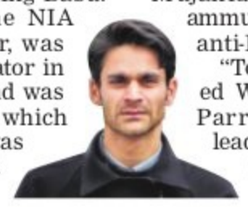
Terror case: PDP youth leader in NIA net

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE NIA on Wednesday arrested PDP's youth wing president Waheed Parra in connection with a terror case involving Hizbul Mujahideen commander Naveed Babu and suspended DSP Davinder Singh. Parra recently filed his nomination for the District Development Council (DDC) elections from Pulwama in South Kashmir.

Parra was arrested on the third day of his examination at the NIA headquarters in New Delhi and he will be taken to Jammu on a transit remand for production before NIA's special court.

Parra's name was mentioned by another terror accused, ex-sarpanch Tariq Mir, during the probe. Singh is accused of harbouring Babu. According to the NIA charge sheet, Mir, was the main conspirator in the Singh case and was in the same car in which the police officer was travelling with Babu.



According to the agency, Mir has travelled to Pakistan at least five times. The NIA claims Mir has regularly met Hizbul Mujahideen operatives during his Pakistan visit. The NIA accuses Parra of conspiring with Mir to help the Hizbul Mujahideen procure arms, ammunition and carry out anti-India activities.

"Today the NIA arrested Waheed Ur Rehman Parra, the youth wing leader of People's Democratic Party, in connection with the Naveed Babu-Davinder Singh case for supporting Hizbul Mujahideen in conspiracy with the other accused persons," NIA's spokesperson said.

Slamming the arrest, PDP chief Mehbooba Mufti alleged that he had no terror links and was being falsely charged just to blackmail and intimidate PDP and other mainstream political parties in J&K.

Para has been critical of the eviction of nomad Gujjar and Bakerwal from forest areas of J&K by the authorities.

BJP's Sinha elected Bihar Speaker amid ruckus

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ Patna

AMID noisy scenes, engineer-turned-politician Vijay Kumar Sinha of the BJP was on Wednesday elected Speaker of the Bihar Assembly through voice vote.

This was the first time in the last 51 years when the voice vote was held in the assembly for electing the Speaker.

The RJD-led opposition had put up seven-time MLA Awadh Bihari Chaudhary as the Grand Alliance candidate for the post. Chaudhary got 114 votes against 126 of BJP's Vijay Kumar Sinha, four-time MLA from Lakhisarai.

When the proceedings began, leader of the opposition Tejashwi Yadav and many of his alliance MLAs opposed the presence of CM Nitish Kumar and VIP chief Mukesh Sahni and Ashok K Choudhary in the House without being its members. They demanded secret voting for the Speaker's election and rushed to the well of the House.

Amid the ruckus, pro tem speaker Jitan Ram Manjhi said there was no constitutional provision for a secret voting for the Speaker's election. Rubbishing the opposition protest, Manjhi said CM Nitish Kumar and the other two leaders cited by the opposition had not participated in the voice vote.

Newly elected Vijay Sinha's political journey began from the days of his active association with the ABVP. He has been elected to the Lakhisarai seat thrice from BJP.

Sinha served the ministry of labour department in the previous NDA government in the state. He belongs to Bhumihar caste and has replaced the last speaker Vijay Kumar Chaudhary of JD-U, who also belonged to Sinha's caste.

Born on June 5, 1967, Sinha's father Sharada Raman Singh was the headmaster in charge of the Barh high school at Bedhana in Patna.

With Sinha's election, the number of engineer-turned-politicians occupying three key posts rose to three: CM Nitish Kumar was a qualified engineer before entering politics. Ditto for Awadesh Narayan, chairman of the legislative council.

Muslim body demands berth in Nitish cabinet

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ Patna

THE National Minority Reservation Front on Wednesday demanded Muslim representation in the 14-member Nitish Kumar cabinet.

Citing figures, Front chief Parvez Siddiqui said that at least 25% of Muslim voters opted for the NDA in the just concluded Assembly polls "because of Nitish Kumar's image." "Nitish Kumar is known to take everyone along the path of development. We are sure he would not disappoint the community and give adequate representation to the members," Siddiqui told the media on Wednesday.

In the recent elections, 19 Muslim MLAs, including eight from RJD, five from AIMIM, four from Congress and one each from BSP and CPI-ML (Liberation), were elected. There were 12 Muslim MLAs in the 2015 polls. The JD-U, the key component of the NDA, had fielded 11 Muslim candidates. The rest of the three allies did not nominate any Muslim candidate. However, not a single JD-U Muslim candidate could win on any seat. The front also urged the CM to expedite the restoration of Rajbhasha status for Urdu. "The front has 50 lakh Muslims associated with it", said Naushad Ahmed, an office-bearer of the Front.

Mamata dares Centre to put her behind bars

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

THE NDA won the Bihar polls through manipulation; it didn't have the people's mandate, said West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee at a rally on Wednesday, challenging the Centre to put her behind bars, even then her party would win the state polls.

Mamata said RJD's performance in the Bihar polls was impressive despite Lalu Prasad's incarceration.

She did not spare the Congress and CPI-M, who are likely to form an alliance in the state polls, accusing them of being in collusion with the BJP to regain ground in Bengal.

"They (the BJP) failed to defeat RJD in Bihar elections. Despite Lalu being in jail, his party performed impressively. If they (BJP) have the guts, let them throw me behind bars, I will fight from there and the TMC will win Bengal polls. The BJP's victory in Bihar is through manipulation and not through popular mandate," said Mamata while addressing a rally in Bankura.

Accusing the BJP of trying to poach her party MLAs by bribing them, Mamata said the BJP was "not a political party but garbage of life". "Whenever elections come, they bring up the issue of Saradha and Narada (scams) to intimidate TMC leaders. I am not afraid of the BJP and its agencies."

Names of a number of TMC leaders and elected representatives of the party surfaced in the Narada sting operation and Saradha chit fund scam.

"Some people are acting as fence-sitters living in the illusion that the BJP would come to power in the state. There is neither chance nor even an off-chance for the BJP," Mamata said in a reference to Subhendu Adhikary, the state transport minister who is rumoured to be joining BJP soon.

The Bengal CM admitted she was not able to concentrate on her party's organizational activities because of the workload that she faced. However, she said she would now focus on the party's political activities.

Reacting to Mamata's speech, state BJP chief Dilip Ghosh said everyone would have to pay for siphoning Central funds. "If Didi has to go to jail, her brothers too will," he said while addressing a rally in Birbhum district.

TMC launches app to showcase Didi's success

KOLKATA: Combatting BJP's cyber slugfest, the ruling Trinamool Congress has launched an app 'Didir Dyut' (Didi's representative) to showcase the state government's success and draw people's response to it.

The content of the app is divided into three segments — "know your Didi (Mamata), work with Didi and be with your Didi". The app will work under the supervision of election strategist Prashant Kishor and his team I-PAC.

A massive campaign has already been in place to encourage people to download the app by using the party's Twitter handle and Facebook account.

"Those who are interested, will have to share his basic information with his or her contact number to complete the registration process. The registered people will be working as the chief minister's representative and they will spread the initiatives taken by her in past 10 years by using their own social media platforms," said a TMC leader.

Sources in the ruling party said the registered persons will work as volunteers on behalf of the TMC. ENS

FEAR OF COVID

Punjab re-imposes night curfew from Dec

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

AMID fears of a second Covid wave in Punjab and a grim situation in Delhi as well as NCR, the Punjab government has decided to re-impose night curfew from D ec 1 to 15 in all towns and cities of the state.

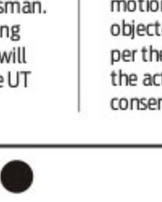
The government has also doubled the fine for not wearing masks or following social distancing from Dec 1. Given the inflow of patients from Delhi for treatment in Punjab, it has also been decided to review and optimize the bed availability in the state's private hospitals.

Chief Minister Capt Amarinder Singh on Wednesday ordered a series of fresh restrictions in the state after a state Covid review meeting. These measures will be reviewed on Dec 15.

The night curfew will remain in force from 10 pm to 5 am. All hotels, restaurants and marriage palaces will be allowed to operate till 9.30 pm. The fine for not following Covid-safeguards would be hiked from the present ₹500 to ₹1,000.

State chief secretary Vini Mahajan has been tasked to work with various departments to encourage more private hospitals to come on board and earmark beds for Covid -19 care.

The health and medical education departments have been directed to make emergency appointments to augment the manpower which was recently strengthened with the recruitment of 249 specialist doctors and 407 medical officers.



Uttarakhand to test travellers from Delhi

Dehradun: The Uttarakhand government has made it mandatory for people travelling from Delhi to the state to undergo a Covid-19 test at the Jollygrant Airport in Dehradun. D K Gautam, director of the Jollygrant Airport, said: "A team of the state health department is conducting tests of each passenger arriving from Delhi. This is to ensure the Covid-19 infection does not spread. We appeal people to cooperate as this is for their as well as their dear ones safety." Meanwhile, the Dehradun administration has since last week started free rapid antigen tests at inter-state border check posts for people coming from outside the state.

University working group to help preserve Dal

The University of Kashmir has formed a high-level working group to promote ecological restoration of the world-famous Dal Lake in Srinagar. The 15-member working group will be headed by vice-chancellor of the university Talat Ahmad. The group includes civil society members, academicians, heads of different government departments, who are directly or indirectly associated with the restoration of Dal Lake. One of the primary mandates of the working group is to identify pressing issues of immense societal and environmental importance and promote research on Dal restoration.

Docs suspended after differently abled student dies

The death of differently-abled Class 10 student outside the District Medical Board in Srinagar has prompted the Jammu and Kashmir government to suspend three members of the board and a class-four employee. The student, a patient of muscular dystrophy, died after being denied by the J&K Board of School Education to write his Class 10 exams because of his inability to write the paper himself as well. His sister and mother had approached the medical board on November 17 and requested that the boy be examined in the vehicle parked outside the centre due to his severe disability. However, according to the family, the student was not attended and it was only when he suffered breathlessness that doctors rushed to the spot to attend him and referred him to the hospital.

Suresh Raina to set up cricket academy in J&K

Former Indian cricketer Suresh Raina will set up a cricket academy in Jammu and Kashmir. The Jammu and Kashmir Sports Council signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Suresh Raina Cricket Academy for setting up the academy to nurture aspiring cricketers of J&K for the national and international levels with comprehensive training programmes. The MoU was signed in the presence of Lieutenant Governor Manoj Sinha and the former Indian middle-order batsman. According to the MoU, the J&K Sports Council will make available supporting infrastructure for usage by the academy. The MoU shall run for a year and will be renewable on mutual understanding. Last month, Raina had visited the UT and interacted with the L-G.

Mattu re-elected as Srinagar mayor

Junaid Mattu was re-elected as mayor of the Srinagar Municipal Corporation (SMC) amid high drama on Wednesday. There are 74 corporators in the SMC and out of those, 51 exercised their right to franchise. Mattoo got 44 votes, while his opponent, Sheikh Imran, who is a former deputy mayor, bagged only seven votes. Mattoo was removed as Srinagar mayor in June after the corporators voted against him in the no-confidence motion. Deputy mayor Parvez Qadri objected to the election, saying as per the Municipal Act 2000, he as the acting mayor had not given his consent for holding the poll.

US is back, ready to lead: Biden

President-elect introduces top Cabinet picks, says they will restore US leadership

WASHINGTON

US President-elect Joe Biden on Tuesday introduced a slate of veteran diplomats and policy-makers who will make up his national security and foreign policy team, saying: "America is back, ready to lead the world."

Biden, 78, presented his picks for secretary of state, national security advisor, homeland security secretary, intelligence chief, UN ambassador and climate change envoy.

"These public servants will restore America's global leadership and moral leadership," Biden said as the six men and women stood behind him wearing face-masks.

Biden said that after he is inaugurated on January 20 and Donald Trump leaves the White House, the United States will "once again sit at the head of the table, ready to confront our adversaries and not reject our allies."

"It is a team that reflects the fact that America is back, ready to lead the world, not retreat from it," he said in a jab at President Trump's go-it-alone "America First" policies.

Biden said on Tuesday night that the White House's cooperation on transition has so far been "sincere".

Trump, who is yet to concede his defeat in the Novemeber 3 presidential elections, on Tuesday authorised the General Services Administration (GSA) to initiate the transition process.

"Immediately, we've gotten outreach from the national security shop to just across the board," Biden told NBC News

"And they're already working out my ability to get Presidential Daily Briefs. We're already working out meeting with the Covid team in the White House and how to not only distribute but get from a vaccine being distributed to a person able to get vaccinated, so I think we're going to not be so far behind the curve as we thought we might be in the past," NBC News quotes the incoming president as saying.

The Washington Post reported that Biden aides held at least 20 meetings with Trump officials.

Biden said that in his first 100 days in office, he would tackle the Covid crisis, scrap Trump policies "damaging" the environment and push legislation offering millions of undocumented residents a route to citizenship. Agencies

TRUMP SET TO PARDON MICHAEL FLYNN: REPORTS

WASHINGTON

US President Donald Trump plans to pardon his former national security advisor Michael Flynn, who pleaded guilty in 2017 to lying to the FBI over his Russian contacts, US media reported on Tuesday.

Axios and the New York Times both cited unnamed sources as saying that Trump plans to include Flynn in a series of pardons he will issue in the final days of his presidency.

Flynn's secret talks with the Russian ambassador to Washington in December 2016, before Trump was inaugurated, were a cornerstone of the sprawling investigation by Special Counsel Robert Mueller into Moscow's meddling in the US election earlier that year.

Trump fired Flynn just 22 days into his administration.

But the president has always claimed the investigation was a political "witch hunt" and that Flynn, a former army general and head of the Defense Intelligence Agency, was a "good man."

In a highly unusual move, the Justice Department withdrew its case against Flynn in May this year, saying the alleged lies to the FBI were not significant and handing Trump a major political victory.

But a federal judge has demanded a further judicial review of the matter. A pardon from Trump would take the matter out of the courts.

"What happened to General Flynn, a war hero, should never be allowed to happen to a citizen of the US again!" Trump had tweeted in May. AFP

Indian-origin MP in NZ takes oath in Sanskrit

WELLINGTON

Dr Gaurav Sharma, one of the youngest and newly-elected Members of Parliament in New Zealand, on Wednesday took oath in Sanskrit in the country's House.

Sharma, 33, hailing from Himachal Pradesh's Hamirpur, was recently elected as the Member of Parliament from the Labour Party for Hamilton West in New Zealand. India's High Commissioner to New Zealand and Samoa, Muktesh Pardeshi said on Twitter that Sharma took oath first in "New Zealand's indigenous Maori language, followed by India's classical language — Sanskrit, showing deep respect for cultural traditions of both India and New Zealand."

Sharma, who did his MBBS from Auckland and MBA from Washington, is working as a General Practitioner (GP) in Nawton, Hamilton.

Replying to a Twitter user who asked why he didn't take oath in Hindi, Sharma said it is hard to keep everyone happy so he decided Sanskrit as it pays homage to all the Indian languages.

"To be honest I did think of that, but then there was the question of doing it in Pahari (my first language) or Punjabi. Hard to keep everyone happy. Sanskrit made sense as it pays homage to all the Indian languages," he tweeted.

Sharma, who had unsuccessfully fought elections in 2017, defeated Tim Macindoe of the National Party in this year's election.

Earlier this month, Priyanca Radhakrishnan became New Zealand's first-ever Indian-origin minister after PM Ardern inducted five new ministers into her executive.

THE MIRACLE PRAYER
Dear Heart of Jesus in the past. I have asked for many favors.
This time. I ask you this Very special favor (mention favor). Take it dear Heart of Jesus. and place it within your own broken heart where your Father sees it. Then in his merciful eyes it will become your favor, not mine.
Amen.
Say this prayer for 3 days. promise publication and favor will be granted. no matter how impossible. Never known to fail.
Thank you for all favors and blessing received,always upon us.

Cabinet nod for LVB-DBS merger

LVB branches will begin operating as DBS Bank India branches from November 27 this year

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ALMOST a week after the decision was first announcement, the Union Cabinet on Wednesday approved the merger of troubled Lakshmi Vilas Bank (LVB) with theIndian arm of Singapore-based DBS Bank. The Cabinet also decided to relax the withdrawal cap of ₹25,000 placed on depositors by the central bank.

"This (merger)is a part of the clean up that was required in the banking sector," Union Minister Prakash Javadekar told reporters in a briefing after the cabinet meet. As part of the amalgamation, DBIL will infuse fresh capital of ₹2,500 crore into LVB. To the relief of the depositors, Javedekar added, "With the merger, there will no further restrictions on the depositors regarding the withdrawal of their deposit. Customers need not rush to banks to withdraw their money. However, whoever does wish to withdraw can now do so at any time in a safe way."

Javedkar also pointed out that while the merger has been approved, actions will be taken against those board members of LVB who are responsible for the trouble of the bank.

The regulator had put LVB under its Prompt Corrective Action (PCA) framework in September 2019, and when the financial situation of te bank worsened, the RBI placed LVB under a one-month moratorium on November 17. It also capped withdrawals at ₹25,000 per account holder until December 19.

The RBI, in consultation with the government, superseded the Board of Directors of LVB and appointed an Administrator to protect the depositors' interest. On the same day, RBI also announced that LVB would be merged with DBS Bank India, a subsidiary of Singapore's DBS and assured depositors that the process will be completed before December 19.

Meanwhile analysts have welcomed the swift resolution on the part of the RBI. According to rating agency Moody's, the merger will strengthen DBS's business position in India by adding new retail and small and medium-sized customers.

₹2,480 cr FDI by ATC Asia Pacific in India unit approved

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs (CCEA) on Wednesday approved a foreign direct investment (FDI) of ₹2,480 crore into telecom infrastructure major ATC Telecom Infrastructure, for which ATC Asia Pacific will secure a 12 per cent stake in the company.

Post this transaction, the cumulative FDI level of ATC Asia Pacific in ATC India will stand at ₹5,417.2 crore.

FDI up to 100 per cent is allowed in telecom services sector, wherein 49 per cent under automatic route and beyond 49 per cent through government route subject to compliance of licensing and security conditions.

Union Information and Broadcasting Minister Prakash Javadekar, speaking to reporters after the Cabinet meeting concluded, said that the investment underlines the growing confidence of investors in India's telecom sector and its infrastructure. He went on to add that this also indicates that theglobal community sees India as a robust market with strong growth.

ATC Telecom Infrastructure operates a business of providing telecom infrastructure services to telecom service operators. According to available data, the company already had an existing FDI approval of up to 86.36 per cent. With the CCEA's Wednesday decision, this will rise to 98.68 per cent.

The acquisition of the 12.32 per cent of the equity share capital by ATC Asia Pacific comes following the decision of partners Tata Tele Services Limited and Tata Sons to exercise their put options.

Reserve Bank may decide to leave policy rates unchanged

JAYANTA ROY CHOWDHURY
@ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank of India is likely continue leaving key policy rates unchanged at its credit policy meeting slated for next week given the high rate of inflation. Finance ministry officials, however, hope that the central bank will continue with its overall stance in favour of rate cuts, given the fact that the economy has technically entered into a recessionary phase at the end of the second quarter of this fiscal year.

India's retail inflation rate, meanwhile, shot up to 7.61 per cent in the month of October. The government has mandated the central bank to keep retail inflation within the range of 4 per cent with a margin of 2 per cent on either side. "Though the rise in retail inflation is mainly on account food prices, core inflation, which measures industrial and retail non-food goods, has also gone up to 5.47 per cent and may remain stubborn, given that drivers like energy and transport costs are likely to go up in the future," a senior official said.

RBI has already cut interest rates by 115 basis points this year, taking the repo rate down to 4 per cent, the lowest since it was introduced in 2000. The chairman of a Delhi-based public sector bank said that reductions in policy rates may not have any salutary impact on growth given the fact that there "was enough money in the system for credit needs, it is more a question of demand for credit rather than availability.'

North bloc would, however, like the central banker to retain its positive stance towards rate reductions given the fact that the second quarter GDP growth figures are likely to be in the range of minus 7.5-10.5 per cent.

"As the RBI has earlier pointed out, we are technically in recession and a combination of fiscal and monetary measures are needed to speed the pace of economic recovery in the post-Pandemic period," an official said. Nevertheless, improvements in several high frequency data such as GST collections, energy consumption, automobile production, and revival of consumer demand, besides the sharp reduction in negative growth from -23.9 per cent in the first quarter to single or near single digits are being seen as positives, allowing a delay in rate cut measures until inflation has been tamed.

In a research report on emerging markets, Barclays pointed out that it "expects the Reserve Bank of India's (RBI) monetary policy committee to keep rates steady, even though... inflation and growth forecasts (are expected) to be revised higher". Officials also said that while food inflation will come down by December, with global crude prices rising in anticipation of a Covid vaccine, central banks across the globe "would be understandably cautious about inflation rates."

Cabinet approves infusion of ₹6,000 cr into NIIF, to aid raising ₹1.1L cr by 2025

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Union Cabinet on Wednesday approved a proposal to infuse ₹6,000 crore into the National Investment and Infrastructure Fund (NIIF) over two years, a move which will help the entity raise ₹1.10-lakh crore by 2025 for financing infrastructure projects.

The equity infusion will be sponsored by Aseem Infrastructure Finance Limited (AIFL) and NIIF Infrastructure Finance Limited (NIIF-IFL). "Of the ₹100 lakh crore that been earmarked for infrastructure, nearly ₹70 lakh crore is expected to come from the bond market and debt funds. Today's decision is a start. The government will provide ₹6,000 crore; the National Investment Infrastructure Fund (NIIF) will provide ₹7,000 crore equity and nearly ₹1 lakh crore will be raised from the bond market," Union Minister Prakash Javeladekar told reporters after the cabinet briefing.

However, it comes with certain riders. "Only ₹2,000 crore would be allocated during the current year 2020-21. However, in view of the unprecedented financial situation and availability of limited fiscal space due to the prevailing Covid-19, the proposed amount may be disbursed only if there is readiness and demand for debt raising," the Union Ministry of Finance said in a statement.

Javadekar also said that the AIFL will predominantly focus on under-construction, greenfield, and brownfield assets with less than one year of operations, whereas NIIF IFL will operate as a take-out vehicle for mature operating assets. The move will also help relieve the exposure of banks to infrastructure projects and free up space for new greenfield projects.

"The decision will take care of the financial needs of planned infra projects. It shows the world that they can believe in India's development and that they can be a part of it," said Javadekar. The proposal is a part of the Aatmanirbhar Bharat package.

JSW arm Shiva Cement plans to invest ₹1,500 cr in new Odisha facility

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi/Chennai

ODISHA-based Shiva Cement Ltd, a subsidiary of JSW Cement Ltd, plans to invest over ₹1,500 crore in a new 1.36 million tonne per annum (mtpa) clinker unit project in the Sundergarh district of the state. While ₹1,150 crore of the capital expenditure will be funded via debt, JSW will invest ₹150 crore through redeemable preference shares and the remaining through a rights issue, the company said Wednesday.

The publicly listed firm, Shiva Cement, has already received some of the required regulatory and statutory approvals, and is on track to obtain other necessary clearances. The clinker unit is likely to be commissioned by the end of next fiscal. Once commissioned, this clinker unit will service JSW Cement's manufacturing facilities across the eastern region, making Shiva Cement a strategic hub for JSW Cement's operations in that part of the country-spanning West Bengal, Jharkhand, and Bihar. JSW owns 59 per cent stake in Shiva Cement.

"Through this investment we hope to contribute to the overall economic development of Odisha as well as create new direct and indirect job opportunities," said Parth Jindal, Managing Director of JSW Cement.

JSW Cement had earlier planned its initial public offer for December but had postponed it due to shrinking demand for cement over the past year and the pandemic. "In 2019, the sector had seen a de-growth, then in 2020, Covid hit us. Now, December 2022 is a logical timeline for us for the IPO," Jindal pointed out.

The company has drawn an ambitious plan to expand its combined cement capacity to 25 million tonne by 2023 from 14 million tonne at a capital expenditure of ₹3,600 crore. Currently, JSW Cement has a consolidated debt of ₹2,800 crore, which would peak at ₹3,500 crore to fund the fresh capex cycle. Cumulatively, domestic cement production has fallen by 25.1 per cent during the first half of fiscal year.

In 2019, the sector had seen a de-growth, then in 2020, Covid hit us. Now, December 2022 is a logical timeline for us for the IPO.

CESS SHORTFALL

Kerala, WB agree to GoI's GST proposal

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AFTER days of protest, Kerala and West Bengal both finally agreed to accept the proposal to borrow through the special window set up by the Centre to make up for the shortfall in GST compensation cess collections.

"Governments of Kerala and West Bengal have communicated their acceptance of Option-1 to meet the revenue shortfall arising out of GST implementation," the finance ministry said in a statement on Wednesday.

"Kerala and West Bengal will get ₹10,197 crore through the special borrowing window," the ministry said, adding that they will also be granted permission to raise an additional ₹11,309 crore through other borrowings. Permission for an additional borrowing of ₹4,522 crore has been granted to Kerala (0.5 per cent of its GSDP) and of ₹6,787 crore to West Bengal.

"This is over and above the Special Window of ₹1.1 lakh crore," the finance ministry statement pointed out.

So far, 25 States and all Union Territories have selected the first option offered by the finance ministry to make up for the shortfall in cess collections. Kerala and West Bengal were the strongest opponents of the proposal. Now only Punjab, Chhattisgarh, and Jharkhand haven't agreed to the proposal, and have not opted for any option.

The special window has been operationalised since October 23, and the Government of India has already borrowed an amount of ₹24,000 crore on behalf of the States in four installments and passed it on as a back-to-back loan.

Pharma performance healthy, but may not last

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

The pharmaceuticals sector remained among the handful that bucked the trend amidst the gloom of the coronavirus pandemic, when most sectors witnessed capital outflows.

Exports, which account for a significant portion of the Indian pharma business, increased by 15.2 per cent to $11.8 billion during the first half of FY21. EBITDA margins expanded around 300 basis points (3 per cent) year-on-year during both the second quarter and the first half FY21. However, the sector may not be able to sustain these margins since global buyers of Indian APIs have curtailed their purchases due to channel-filling over the past few quarters.

Experts also note that the business of active pharmaceutical ingredients or APIs, which is the key ingredient of a medicine, will decline on a quarterly basis, while other expenses could also jump sharply. "The healthy performance is attributed to improving revenue growth in key geographies of India and the US, along with cost optimisation initiatives continuing albeit with lower intensity," noted analysts at India Ratings and Research. The India business growth was also led by higher sales of Covid-related products and the continued out-performance of chronic therapies.

"Indian API players benefited due to the thrust on supply chain continuity from customers and better inventory management in view of supply disruptions from China and the run up in the prices of APIs. The supply chain has been fairly restored now and we expect the growth in API business to taper off, as companies normalise their buying patterns," Ind-Ra added.

With the gradual unlocking of the economy, the patient footfalls are gaining traction in healthcare units as demand from non-Covid-19 patients is gathering pace. In fact, a broad-based recovery across therapies was observed in October 2020 as well.

Coffee Day Global losses narrow to ₹59 cr in Q2

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

COFFEE Day Global, the coffee business subsidiary of Coffee Day Enterprises, on Wednesday posted consolidated net loss of ₹59.38 crore in the second quarter ending September 30, 2020, narrowing losses from the ₹98.42 crore witnessed in the corresponding period of the previous fiscal. Revenue from operations, meanwhile, stood at ₹78.69 crore compared to ₹364.24 crore in the year-ago period, the company said in a regulatory filing.

CGD's production, procurement, and export division clocked a revenue of ₹7.52 crore in the second quarter as against ₹36.31 crore in the same period last year. Retail operations, on the other hand, had a revenue of ₹79.68 crore as against ₹368.93 crore in the corresponding quarter last fiscal. Due to the outbreak of the pandemic and the resultant lockdown beginning March, CGD's business came to a grinding halt during the first quarter. However, from July onward, the company has been able to recommence business and has seen sales improve gradually every month. Currently, the company is able to operate almost 90 per cent of the retained cafes and nearly 50 per cent of the retained vending machines, it added. The second quarter saw cafe outlets reduce to 679 from 778, while the number of its coffee vending machines decreased to 49,547 from 53,440.

"The average sales per day has gone up from ₹4,000 in June 2020 to more than ₹11,000 in October. Operational vending machines have gone up from 5,000 in April to 26,000 in October. The company therefore foresees no problem in continuing as a going concern," it noted. Admitting that there has been a delay in repayments, the company said that the overdue amount as on September, 2020, is was ₹400.85 crore, including an interest of ₹36.4 crore.

Fino Payments Bank Q2 net profit ₹4.5 cr

New Delhi: Fino Payments Bank on Wednesday reported a net profit of ₹4.5 crore for the July-September period, making it the third consecutive quarter that it has ended in the black. The payments bank, which has a network in 700 districts of the country through 5.5 lakh merchant points, had reported a post-tax net profit of ₹1.9 crore in the June quarter and ₹1.3 crore in the March quarter.

REMOTE HIRING

SAP Labs to fill 1,500 roles in India by year-end: Gangadharan

BISMAH MALIK @ Bengaluru

GERMAN tech major SAP's research and development division, SAP Labs is onboarding hires remotely every week as the company looks to fill more than 1,500 roles in India by the year end. "We are hiring almost on weekly basis in India," Sindhu Gangadharan, Senior Vice President, and Managing Director, SAP Labs India said recently at the Bengaluru Tech Summit. Gangadharan also pointed out that the tech firm is planning to spend 400 million euros in employee bonus and benefit programmes over the next four years.

While referring to the remote hiring process, Gangadaran said that HR departments have to show a digital-first approach and even if they are working from home, the company's organisational structure and culture needs to be maintained. She also noted that there was a need to hold employees accountable for their performance while they were working from home and keeping up communications with the workforce.

"We have to ensure employee engagement from top-down and their involvement in the decision making under current times," Gangadharan said. She also noted that pre-hire connections were important for new employees to adapt well within the organisation even if they are hired remotely. The pandemic, she said, may lead to 44 per cent of the global workforce working remotely on average, which also necessitates the need to upskill employees.

In India, top tier IT and ITeS firms had frozen hiring in the first two quarters of FY21 due to the disruption from the pandemic. However, analysts have projected that IT industry hiring will pick up during the current quarter and the next, since the tech industry is benefiting from the massive digitisation sparked by Covid-19. A majority of top tech firms in India have said that they remain committed to onboarding freshers this year and that they will resume hiring for senior roles by the year-end or 2021. Experts also observe that demand for roles in artificial intelligence, cloud computing, machine learning, and cyber security is high even in sectors such as BSFI, retail, hospitality, education, and healthcare.

We have to ensure employee engagement from top-down and their involvement in the decision making under current times...

Greg Barclay elected ICC's independent chairman

New Zealand Cricket (NZC) head Greg Barclay has been elected as the ICC's new Independent Chairman after he comfortably defeated Singapore's Imran Khwaja to succeed India's Shashank Manohar. The voting was carried out during ICC's annual quarterly meeting on Tuesday.

1960 - 2020

GOODBYE EL DIEGO

DIEGO Maradona was football's archetypal troubled genius, a world-beating player whose life and career scaled the most dazzling heights but also plumbed the darkest depths.

Maradona, who died Wednesday at the age of 60, became a global icon after leading Argentina to the 1986 World Cup but he was not a squeaky clean idol like Pele, and made little attempt to hide his fiery personality and many vices.

"I am black or white, I'll never be grey in my life," he once said. Maradona was short, powerful and quick. He was also a ferocious and astute competitor who refused to be intimidated even though many opponents tried. Above all, he was sublimely and imaginatively skilful.

However, while Maradona is remembered for his masterly composure on the ball, he was also famous for his frequent lack of control both on the field and off. He struggled with addiction, notably to cocaine, and with his weight.

Diego Armando Maradona was born on October 30, 1960, in Lanus, just outside Buenos Aires, and grew up in one of the poorest areas of the Argentine capital.

He made his debut for Argentinos Juniors just before his 16th birthday and his debut for Argentina at age 16 in February, 1977. His career is defined by the World Cup, the four he played in and the one he missed. Manager Cesar Luis Menotti omitted "El Pibe de Oro" (the golden kid) from his squad in 1978. Argentina, the hosts, went on to win the competition for the first time. The following year, under Menotti, Maradona led Argentina to victory in the under-20 World Cup in Japan, winning the Golden Ball for the tournament's best player. His senior World Cup debut in 1982 in Spain went badly. Maradona was treated brutally by defenders and ended his tournament with a red card for retaliation as Argentina, already eliminated, lost to Brazil.

He atoned four years later, propelling his country to victory in Mexico and making the tournament his own.

In the final, Maradona set up the 86th-minute winner against West Germany. He scored twice in the semifinal against Belgium, beating four defenders for the second. But the match that defined his tournament, and possibly his international career, was the 2-1 quarterfinal win over England, in which he scored two goals that will be remembered forever — for very different reasons.

In the 51st minute, as Peter Shilton reached to catch the ball, Maradona, some seven inches shorter, jumped alongside him and with a deftness that fooled the eye, flicked the ball through the England goalkeeper's arms and into the net. After the game, Maradona said he scored "a little with the head of Maradona and a little with the hand of God."

All the while, Maradona's off-field problems continued. He went into drug rehab on several occasions. When he quit cocaine, he binged instead on drink, cigars and food and ended up in hospital in 2007.

In 2000, FIFA ran an online Player of the Century poll. Maradona gained 54 percent of the vote, Pele was second. Maradona married his long-time girlfriend Claudia Villafane in 1984. They had two daughters, Dalma and Gianinna, and divorced in 2004.

A LOOK AT SOME ASPECTS OF HIS CAREER

1979 One of his first big titles was the U-20 World Cup with Argentina in 1979

34 No of international goals he scored

2010 He managed the national team at the 2010 World Cup

1982 His first senior World Cup was in 1982, he subsequently played in three more editions

2000 He was voted as the Player of the Century in a poll run by FIFA

CAREER PATH

● Argentinos ● Boca Juniors ● FC Barcelona ● Napoli ● Sevilla ● Newell's ● Boca Juniors

NOTABLE TITLES

● World Cup | Argentina: 1986 ● Serie A | Both for Napoli: 1987, 1990 ● Spanish Super Cup | Barcelona: 1984 ● Spanish League Cup | Barcelona: 1983 ● UEFA Cup | Napoli: 1989 ● Italian Super Cup | Napoli: 1991

I have lost a dear friend, and the world has lost a legend. May God give his family strength. One day, I hope, we will play soccer together in the sky.

Pele

A bit of our past has gone. I am very sad. I am nostalgic for what was a wonderful era. Diego left a mark on my life.

Michel Platini

By some distance the best player of my generation and arguably the greatest of all time. Hopefully he'll find some comfort in the hands of God.

Narsingh back in national fold

STAR wrestlers Bajrang Punia and Vinesh Phogat along with Jitender Kinha will skip the Individual World Cup in Belgrade from December 12-18. Returning to the national fold for the first time after a doping scandal in 2016 is Narsingh Yadav, a former World Championship medallist. Narsingh was barred from participating in the 2016 Rio Olympics, a day before his bout. He was eventually banned for four years on doping charges. The 31-year-old completed the ban in August. While Bajrang will train in the USA with his coach Shako Bentinidis, Vinesh decided to give it a miss citing lack of competition. The Wrestling Federation of India has not named replacements, except for Narsingh, who will compete in 74kg in place of Jitender.

Recognition for archery body

In December, 2012, Archery Association of India (AAI) was derecognised for flouting age and tenure restrictions of the Sports Code. Almost eight years later, it has been recognised again by the sports ministry. Elections conducted on January 18 have been deemed fair, free and transparent. The federation now has the ministry's recognition and World Archery has lifted its suspension conditionally. However, elections for one vice-president and two joint-secretaries were found to be not in accordance with the Sports Code. The three officials will have to demit office and fresh elections will have to conducted for these posts.

Four qualify for last CL 16

Juventus, Barcelona, Chelsea and Sevilla qualified for the last 16 of the Champions League with two group league matches in hand. Juventus rode a late strike from Alvaro Morata to beat Ferencvaros. OPlaying without Lionel Messi and several other first-choice players, Barcelona dismantled Dynamo Kyiv 4-0. Chelsea and Sevilla needed late goals. Olivier Giroud came off the bench to score an injury-time header in Chelsea's 2-1 win. Munir El Haddadi scored in the final minute as Sevilla defeated Krasnodar 2-1.

Results: Group E: Krasnodar 1-2 Sevilla, Rennes 1-2 Chelsea. Group F: Borussia Dortmund 3-0 Club Brugge, Lazio 3-1 Zenit Saint Petersburg. Group G: Dynamo Kiev 0-4 Barcelona, Juventus 2-1 Ferencvaros. Group H: Manchester United 4-1 Istanbul Basaksehir, PSG 1-0 RB Leipzig.

Mumbai make Goa pay penalty

A late goal helped Mumbai City edge Goa 1-0 in their ISL match on Wednesday. Even though Goa had lost their full complement of players after Redeem Tiang was red-carded in the 40th minute, they maintained shape and could have had all three points. But some wayward shooting let them down. That profligacy came back to bite them as Adam le Fondre struck the winner from the penalty spot five minutes into injury time.

450 oryxes were counted in 1996, which dropped to 65 in subsequent years

IMPORTANCE

- The sanctuary contained one of the most rare free-ranging herd of Arabian oryxes
- They were extinct in the wild in 1972 and were reintroduction in 1982 in the area

EXFILE • HISTORICAL SITES

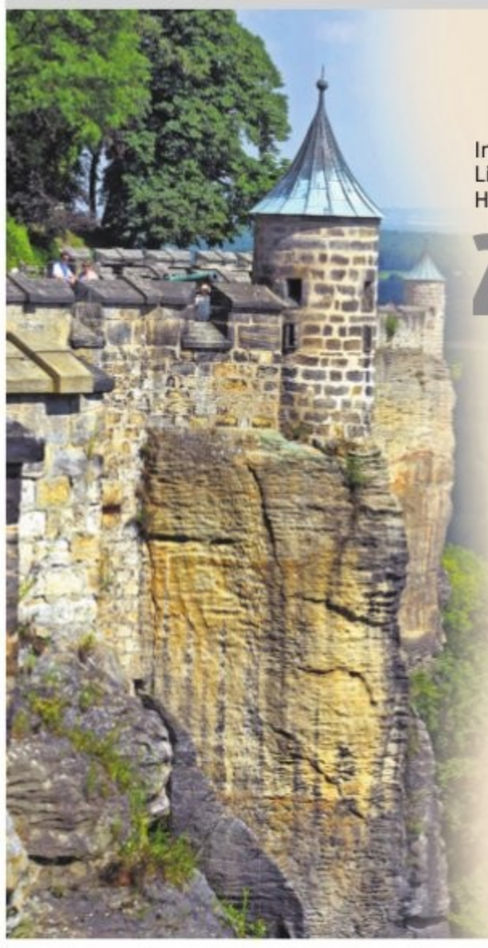
UNESCO'S DELISTED LANDMARKS

For any country to have one of its landmarks listed as a UNESCO World Heritage site is matter of great pride. However, there are three landmarks that have made to the infamous list of being delisted or partially delisted. We take a look

DRESDEN ELBE VALLEY

COUNTRY: Germany
CATEGORY: Cultural
DELISTED DATE: 2009
DATE OF INSCRIPTION: 2004

The 18th and 19th-century cultural landscape extends about 18 km along from Ubigau Palace and Ostragehege fields in the north-west to the Pillnitz Palace and the Elbe River Island in the south-east



Inscribed on the List of World Heritage in Danger

2006

WHY WAS IT DELISTED

Germany's decision to build the Waldschlosschen Bridge river crossing in the heart of the cultural landscape led to the World Heritage Committee to delist the site

GLIMPSE OF THE PAST

- The landscape features low meadows and is crowned by the Pillnitz Palace and the centre of Dresden with its numerous monuments and parks from the 16th to 20th centuries
- Some of the terraced slopes along the river are still used for viticulture
- A few of the villages have retained their historic structure and elements from the industrial revolution

ARABIAN ORYX SANCTUARY

COUNTRY: Oman
DATE OF INSCRIPTION: 1994
DELISTED DATE: 2007
CATEGORY: Natural

The animal sanctuary is located in the Omani Central Desert and Coastal Hills

WHY WAS IT REMOVED FROM THE LIST

- Oman's decision to reduce the size of the protected area by 90% was seen by World Heritage Committee as destroying the universal value of the site
- With only four breeding pairs of oryx remaining in the site, doubts were raised about the area's future viability

BAGRATI CATHEDRAL

COUNTRY: Georgia
DATE OF INSCRIPTION: 1994
DELISTED DATE: 2017
CATEGORY: Cultural

The 11th-century cathedral in Kutaisi is a classic example of medieval Georgian architecture. The Bagrati Cathedral and Gelati Monastery were inscribed as a joint World Heritage Site

1692

The cathedral came under the attack of the Ottoman troops that led the cupola and ceiling to collapse

SYMBOL OF GEORGIA

It was built during the reign of King Bagrat III, who unified the region under one rule

PARTIALLY DESLISTED

2009
The Georgian government began reconstruction works of the church

2010
Bagrati Cathedral and Gelati Monastery were added to the endangered list

WHY: The committee feared reconstruction would affect the structural integrity affect the site's historical value

2017
The World Heritage Committee voted in 2017 to retain Gelati Monastery on the list but exclude Bagrati Cathedral

Biomineral armour protects leaf-cutter ants

Researchers find previously unknown phenomenon in insects making these ants almost unbeatable in battle

ENTOMOLOGY

PARIS: A well-known leaf-cutting ant grows its own body armour using biominerals, a protective power previously unknown in the insect world, scientists have discovered in research published on Tuesday showing this makes the ants almost unbeatable in battle.

Biomineral armour is seen in the natural world in crustaceans like lobsters as well as in other marine animals — sea urchin spines contain calcium carbonate for example — but it has not previously been found in insects. Researchers stumbled across the discovery while investigating the relationship between the fungus-growing ant species Acromyrmex echinatior and antibiotic-producing bacteria that helps them protect their crops. They noticed that the larger worker ants, known as majors, have a "whitish, granular coating" over the surface of their bodies, according to co-author Cameron Currie, professor of Bacteriology at the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

He said Hongjie Li, the lead author of the report published in Nature Communications, "became fascinated with the crystals" and discovered it was a biomineral layer that develops as the ants mature, increasing the hardness of their exoskeleton and covering nearly the entire body. While researchers do not know for certain why the ants have this unusual armour, Currie told AFP they suspect it has a lot to do with the soldier ants of another species of fungus-growing ants, Atta cephalotes.

The two species will often engage in territorial "ant wars", which the researchers simulated in lab-based battles.

"When the Acro majors are without their armour the Atta soldiers quickly cut them into pieces, literally," Currie said. "When they have their armour, they actually go from almost always losing the battles to almost always winning."

The authors found that the benefits of a biomineralised exoskeleton go beyond giving the workers an edge in ant wars.

Their studies suggest it also helps protect them against infection from the disease-causing fungus Metarhizium anisopliae, which might otherwise spread quickly through their dense colonies.

Ants are believed to have started fungus subsistence farming about 60 million years ago in South America.

Some 20 million years ago the practice became more "industrialised", with the emergence of leaf-cutting ant species like Acromyrmex echinatior and Atta cephalotes living in large, complex colonies and harvesting fresh vegetation that they use to grow their fungus.

Acromyrmex echinatior colonies can be formed with hundreds of thousands of large and small worker ants.

FACT OF THE MATTER

Pilot whales beached in NZ

WILDLIFE

Almost 100 pilot whales have died in a mass stranding on New Zealand's remote Chatham Islands, conservation officials said on Wednesday. Most of the marine mammals beached themselves over the weekend, but rescue efforts were hampered by the area's isolated location, about 800 kilometres east of the South Island, the Department of Conservation (DOC) said. Department biodiversity ranger Jemma Welch said 69 whales had already died by the time wildlife officers reached the beach. She said 28 pilot whales, including two that beached on Monday after the initial stranding, and three dolphins were euthanised. The causes of mass strandings still remain unknown.

Study: Prehistoric mega-shark raised its young in nurseries

PALAEONTOLOGY

PARIS: The largest sharks ever to have roamed the oceans parked their young in shallow, warm-water nurseries where food was abundant and predators scarce until they could assume their title as kings and queens of the sea. But as sea levels declined in a cooling world, the brutal mega-predator, Otodus megalodons, may have found fewer and fewer safe-haven coastal zones where its young could safely reach adulthood, researchers reported Wednesday in The Royal Society journal Biology Letters.

Indeed, the reliance of Megalodon on nurseries may have contributed to the end of their 20-million-year reign, according to the research.

Otodus megalodon — sometimes classified as a Carcharocles megalodon — took 25 years to become an adult — "an extremely delayed sexual maturity", the authors said in the research paper. But once it was fully grown, the shark could reach up to 18 metres, three times the size of the largest great white shark, made famous by the 1975 movie Jaws. As an apex predator, and up until its extinction around three million years ago, the adult megalodon had no rivals among other ocean hunters and feasted on smaller sharks and even whales.

But its young were vulnerable to attacks by other predators, often other razor-toothed sharks. Nurseries on shallow continental shelves with extensive smaller fish for food and few competing predators gave them the ideal space to reach their awesome size.

"Our results reveal, for the first time, that nursery areas were commonly used by the O. megalodon over large temporal and spatial scales," said the authors.

The research team discovered a nursery zone off the eastern coast of Spain in Tarragona Province after visiting a museum and observing a collection of megalodon teeth. Judging by the size of the teeth, they surmised the area had once been home to young megalodons. Megalodons enjoyed the warm and temperate waters of the Miocene period which extended from about five million to 23 million years ago. But the cooler Pliocene period suited them far less. As their prey adapted and headed towards colder waters, the megalodon stayed where the oceans remained warm. The vast reduction of shallow water nurseries due to sea-level losses may also have contributed to its eventual extinction.

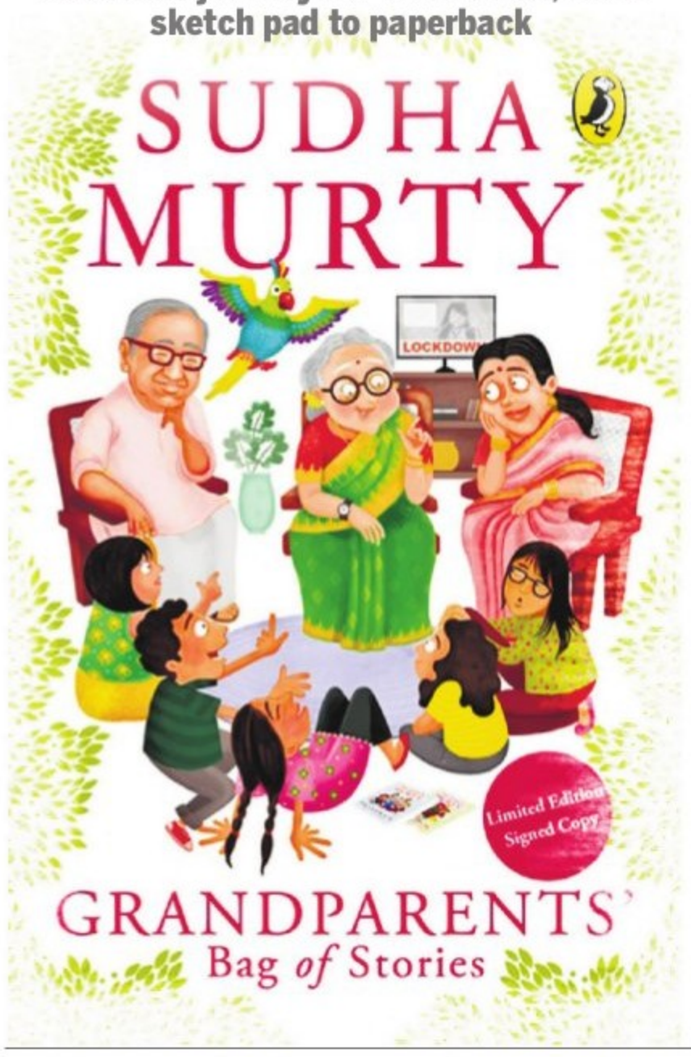
DRAWING DELIGHTS

Riding high on five releases this year, illustrator Priya Kuriyan speaks to CE about the journey her work takes, from sketch pad to paperback



Monika Monalisa

Netizens can't stop buzzing about Bollywood director Karan Johar's new work. And no, they aren't talking about a movie. Winning hearts is his children's book, The Big Thoughts of little Luv, where the characters are inspired by his twin children, Yash and Roohi. Lending oodles of cuteness to the book are the illustrations, done by Priya Kuriyan. Just as praise for this book is pouring in, the Bengaluru-based illustrator has worked on another newly-released book too – Grandparents' Bag of Stories by Sudha Murty. This year has been "unexpectedly" busy for her. "Many projects that were in the pipeline are coming out now," says Kuriyan, who also made sketches for Perumal Murugan's Poonachi, which released earlier this year, and Jeffrey Archer's By Royal Appointment, which released in October. "It was special because I have grown up reading his books. Though I was not directly in touch with him, he did give a go-ahead for most of my sketches."

Having worked on a range of illustrations, Kuriyan finds sketching for children's books to be trickier. "A child's taste can change almost every week. It's difficult to judge what will work with them, and in India, book characters should be diverse," says the 39-year-old, adding that the choices change with the treatment for each story. This helps in her judgement. Take, for instance, Grandparents' Bag of Stories. For Kuriyan, the story felt like it was set in Bengaluru, where families are modern yet traditional, and live with grandparents. "So I incorporated that while creating the characters. The Big Thoughts of Little Luv has a nuclear family and sounded more like being set in Bombay or Delhi," explains Kuriyan, who is currently in Kerala.

Illustrations for books by Karan Johar (top) and Jeffrey Archer

Kuriyan's first book was Radhika Chadha's I'm So Sleepy, which came out in 2003, and is about an elephant who forgets how to sleep. She says there are different processes that go into sketches for commissioned and personal projects. "I visualise the characters first, while the writing follows. I have a good amount of drawing before completing anything else," says Kuriyan, mentioning that another important difference for personal projects is that you have to keep motivating yourself, while commissioned projects come with a deadline.

A graduate of National Institute of Design, Ahmedabad, Kuriyan has earlier directed educational films for the Sesame Street show (Galli Galli Sim Sim) and also worked on TV commercials. But her tryst with sketching goes way back to her childhood. "I was not academically inclined, so my parents told me I might as well do something I love," she laughs. While her commercial works are available for the world to see, what does her personal sketchbook look like? "I love observing the lives of people around me, along with nature. It's like drawing without using much of your brain cells," says Kuriyan, whose next work is a book for Eklavya, an NGO in Bhopal, which is coming out by December-end.

"Though I was not directly in touch with Jeffrey Archer for his book, he did give a go-ahead for most of my sketches

KICKSTARTING NEW IDEAS

Express Features

There's nothing like enforced time indoors and a raging pandemic outdoors to bring about a burst in creativity. If you have a business idea, here's a platform for you to showcase your proposal. The upcoming Influencer Con event has a number of workshops that will focus on helping influencers launch their own business. The event also has a segment where, similar to the reality show Shark Tank, influencers can pitch their business ideas to win prize money of ₹5 lakh.

Besides this, there is also a panel discussion, Saloni Srivastava, a Bengaluru-based YouTuber; Amit Agrawal, ex-head, YouTube India; Sucheta Pal, a zumba ambassador; and Naga Subramanyam, a podcaster, will focus on topics like filling the TikTok void, and effectively managing and monetising your social media presence. Srivastava says, "As an online business owner, most of my time goes into creating content and handling the operation of my business. An initiative like this is a good way to network."

Madhavan Malolan

Madhavan Malolan, founder of Creator OS, which is organising the event, says, "Influencers are the next-gen entrepreneurs. We are here to help with all the tools and connections to super charge this community and help them build their business."

The event takes place on Nov. 26 and 27. For details, check Influencercon.in.

Creations from the previous editions of the Cartist Festival

An upcoming online show has artists exploring their creativity on cars, autos and other vehicles as their canvas

Wheeling in art

Express Features

Ever wondered what art and engineering would look like together? Check out Cartist Festival, a four-day festival that brings together automobiles and art, which is going virtual for the first time due to the pandemic. The fourth edition kickstarts on Friday.

The festival is an annual extravaganza exhibiting unique art creations on various social themes. Himanshu Jangid, organiser of the festival, believes that despite the challenging times, art shouldn't be confined within four walls. "This year, Cartist Festival 2020 focuses on the theme of sustainability, which is the need of the hour. We are organising the festival in a completely virtual manner, giving it the scope to be bigger and better with the support of people from across the country," says Jangid, a Jaipur-based entrepreneur, who works on restoring vintage cars.

Bengaluru artists too have been an active part of the festival. "For 2018 and 2019, we had Cartist Yatra, wherein we travelled to different cities in our art cars and had stops at different cities, including Bengaluru," says Jangid.

An artist from Bengaluru, Kayalvizhi Sethukarasu, who was the part of Cartist last year too, says she is going to miss the Cartist Yatra in particular. "Cartist is a different experience where we get to see that art is not just restricted to the regular mediums like canvas and acrylic colours. I got to interact with so many artists in person and learnt a lot from them too," says Sethukarasu, who says she will miss seeing the installations in person but is looking forward to the virtual event because that will be a new experience too.

There are also artists participating from the city, for whom it will be a first time experience. For instance, Nikhil Suryakrishna, who specialises in origami, says, "Himanshu got in touch with me for the festival and it sounded exciting too. I will be conducting workshops on origami." Suryakrishna is also looking forward to interacting with other artists.

There is also a slew of workshops, including 'Beyond Green' by Ritu Dua, 'Upcycling the toy world' by Vishal Khude, and 'Calligraphy: play of words' by Shipra Rohtagi.

The event is on from Nov 27 to Nov 30. Details on Bookmyshow

Brought to the brink of shutdown by the pandemic, Hobbit Cafe, which employs people with dwarfism, is now turning towards crowdfunding to support its staffers

Little people, big challenges

Express Features

The pandemic has had many devastating effects on businesses. The latest to be nearing shutdown is Hobbit Cafe, the city's first dwarfism-themed cafe. Not wanting to give up so soon, Karthik Sagiraju, the owner of the cafe, has turned towards crowdfunding to keep the venture afloat. The cafe was a hit among its visitors, not just for the food but also for the cause it supported. But during the lockdown they had to remain shut for more than six months, which brought in huge losses for the business. Sagiraju did manage to pay the staff around 40-50 per cent of their salaries to help them but over the past few months, it has been difficult to continue the same.

Fearing a total shutdown of the cafe, Sagiraju started an online fundraiser on Milaap, a fundraising platform, with a target to raise ₹20 lakh to help the cafe, which has over 40 staff members. Each member comes with their own story of struggle. Take, for example, 23-year-old Rajshekhar, one of the staffers, who hails from a village in Anantapur. Along with dwarfism, Rajshekhar also has a partial hearing impairment. After being promised a job in Bengaluru by different agencies, Rajshekhar got a chance to work at the cafe.

"It took ages for us all to give them the respect they deserve. We have shown the world that they belong to it as much as we do. It's time for us all to come together again in giving these little people their wings back. This crowdfunding campaign is our last hope to keep Hobbit Cafe alive and continue supporting people with dwarfism," says Sagiraju, who started this cafe in 2019, when he saw the discrimination that most people with the condition faced.

CINNAMON TEA CAKE

INGREDIENTS

- Cubed butter: 180 g, at room temp ■ Melted butter: 1 tbsp
- Caster sugar: 3/4 cup + 1 tbsp
- Vanilla extract: 1 tsp
- Eggs: 2 ■ Plain flour: 1/4 cup
- Self-raising flour: 1.25 cups
- Ground cinnamon: 2 tsp + 1 tsp
- Milk: 1/2 cup

METHOD

- Preheat the oven to 170°C. Grease and line a pound cake pan with baking paper. Beat butter, sugar and vanilla extract together until pale and creamy. Add eggs, one at a time, and beat well.
- Sift flours and cinnamon together. Fold in alternately with milk in two batches.
- Pour into pan and bake for an hour or until a skewer to the centre comes out clean.
- Cool in pan and transfer to a wire rack. Mix extra sugar, cinnamon and melted butter together. Pour over the cake and let it cool.

FIT BIT

ADVASANA

(REVERSE CORPSE POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'adva' means 'prone' and 'asana' means 'pose'. It is a basic relaxation and restorative pose. Traditionally, it opens the Ajna (third eye) and Manipura (solar plexus) chakras. By activating Ajna chakra, the yogi taps into their intuitive nature. It also reduces fatigue, stress and anxiety. It is the reverse of Savasana, which is practised by lying on the back. If desired, a mantra may be chanted silently in sync with the breath.

STEPS

- Lie down on your stomach.
- Stretch both your hands in the front, above the head, your palms touching the floor.
- Make sure that both your shoulders are adjacent to your ears.
- Maintain some distance between both the legs so that you are comfortable.
- Make sure your head and spine are in a straight line. Close your eyes.
- Now, touch your nose and forehead on the ground too.
- Breathe slowly and deeply, focusing on the inhalation and exhalation.
- Make your body comfortable.
- Don't pay attention to the surrounding or what's in your mind. Just be with your body and mind.
- Devote your whole body to the earth and relax. Make sure you do not sleep while doing this asana.
- Slowly bring your attention back to your environment and body. When you experience perfection, you can open your eyes slowly.
- If you feel any discomfort in the waist or spine, you can put a blanket or pillow below the knee.

BENEFITS

- Plays an important role in providing mental peace.
- After a yoga practise, you can go into a state of deep meditation.
- Stabilises the body and cures Vata dosha.
- Energises your body.
- Concentration increases and mind becomes more focused. It also improves memory.
- The calmer and focused your mind is on the breath, the more it benefits.
- Gets you into a state of deep meditation which relieves the body from stress and heals the cells completely.
- Controls high blood pressure. Keeps the internal system healthy and strong.
- Enhances blood circulation and nourishes the organs, muscles, fibers, and tendons of the human system.

LIMITATIONS

- If you are pregnant, avoid this asana. If you have an injury in the back or waist, do this by bending your knees and keeping your feet on the ground.
- If there is any difficulty in breathing, you can place a pillow under the chest.

– by N Elumalai, PhD scholar (Yoga Science) at Meenakshi Academy of Higher Education & Research, Chennai

Just recovered from Covid-19? Here is everything you need to know about possible complications that may arise post the infection

It is believed that the virus causes direct as well as indirect damage to the beta cells causing 'New Onset Diabetes' in patients recovering from Covid-19. Often, such diabetes requires insulin to keep check on blood sugar levels

ROAD TO RECOVERY

Dr. Sujay Prasad

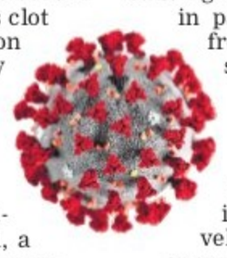
The ongoing Covid-19 pandemic has changed the way we experiment with life in general. If you are a patient who has just recovered, here are the possible complications or residual effects the virus could have left behind.

Lung health

The organ the virus latches onto is the lungs. In the short term, the lungs are affected by pneumonia, pneumonitis, and interstitial lung disease. Following recovery, most patients heal completely and may not have any residual defects. However, in a small percentage (not known as of now) the healing is through fibrosis, which, in the long term reduces lungs' vital capacity and may predispose them to frequent infections. However, with time, when the lungs heal and become rigid, it may become a risk for repeated infection. To ensure the risk of long-term complications is minimised, it is recommended to perform breathing exercises that the doctor may have advised along with yoga and pranayama. This will allow the lung to expand and bring more air into the affected area.

Blood clotting

It has become evident that SARS CoV2 affects the clotting mechanism of the human body. In the acute phase, when the patient is hospitalised and being treated, the clotting mechanism may affect the patient severely, leading to the sudden formation of large clots inside the blood vessel even though there is no gross injury. This stops the blood supply to that part of the organ and leads to severe damage. In less severe cases, smaller clots may form in various organs and these may not become evident immediately, and patients might not even be aware of such clots. Depending on where the clots are formed, the patient might experience memory loss or minor loss of functionality if the clot is inside the brain. This clot related complication does not arise directly due to the virus, but due to the way it affects our clotting mechanism through the immune system.



According to Elsoukkary S.S. et al, a study on 32 autopsies revealed widespread thromboembolic disease (clotting disease) in 28 cases (88 per cent) indicating that clotting of varying degrees is seen in the majority of moderate to severe covid infections.

Regular assessment of patient during post-Covid care is the only means of detecting an abnormality related to clotting event.

SARS CoV2 and diabetes

It is believed that the virus causes direct as well as indirect damage to the beta cells causing 'New Onset Diabetes' in patients recovering from Covid-19. Often, such diabetes requires insulin to keep check on blood sugar levels. Diabetes is not a risk for Covid-19, but Covid-19 is a risk for developing diabetes. It is recommended that blood sugar levels are checked periodically and monitored to screen for new onset diabetes in patients who have recovered from Covid infections.

What are the chances of Covid-19 reinfection?

We are beginning to learn the evolution of the virus as it unfolds in the pandemic. World Health Organization has reported 24 cases of reinfection so far in the world. In India, ICMR has reported three cases of reinfection – two in Mumbai and one in Ahmedabad. Though reinfections are rare, it is advisable to wear a mask, maintain physical distance, wash hands frequently, and avoid crowded areas.

Reducing stroke risk, age no bar

Dr. Vishakhadatta Mathur Kumaraswamy

The World Health Organization (WHO) holds stroke as the second leading factor responsible for mortality, and rise in the number of cases is alarming, more so in the younger generations. Heart attack and stroke were more prevalent in the older population along with a history of cholesterol, smoking and diabetes. But in the recent past owing to the change in lifestyle, there has been a drastic change in the stroke age group landscape.

Those in the age group of 25-30 are more prone to stroke due to sedentary lifestyle, lack of physical activities, and consumption of intoxicants. Stroke is a condition where the blood supply to the brain is restricted. Even if the stroke lasts for a second it affects the functioning of brain, thereby hampering normal functioning of the body. Blood supply to the brain is crucial as it carries oxygen and other vital constituents.

Three types of stroke

1. Ischemic Stroke: This type is most common. An ischemic stroke happens when the blood flow to the brain through the artery that supplies oxygen to the brain gets blocked. The main cause of ischemic stroke is the blood clots that cause blockages in the brain.
2. Hemorrhagic Stroke: In hemorrhagic stroke, the artery in the brain ruptures and leaks blood. Once the blood vessel in the brain is damaged, the brain gets flooded with blood damaging the brain cells.
3. Transient Ischemic Stroke: Also called 'Mini-Stroke'. Unlike the other types, the blood flow to the brain in this type is blocked only for a short time. Usually, the blockage does not exceed five minutes.

Stroke among young adults

There is no denying the fact that the risk of stroke increases with age. But it is no longer restricted to old age only. Stroke among the youngsters is turning out to be a major public health issue, the reason being that it is one of the most common causes of death worldwide. Due to lack of awareness, many young adults are unprepared when a stroke happens as they do not recognize its symptoms and get medical care in time.

Migraines are a risk factor for strokes

RISK FACTORS

- High Body Mass Index
- Diabetes
- Hypertension
- Rheumatic heart disease
- Having oral contraceptive pills increases the risk of stroke for women
- Migraine
- Blood disorders

KEEPING STROKES AT BAY

- Quit smoking
- Try to reduce alcohol consumption and gradually say goodbye to it
- Keep the blood pressure under control. Monitor your blood pressure regularly. If it is elevated, take measures and treatment to bring it down. Keep blood sugar levels in check.
- If you are obese, shed pounds. Aim to maintain ideal BMI.
- Exercise regularly for at least 30 minutes. You can pursue any kind of physical activity like walking, jogging, yoga or aerobics. Include routines like using stairs, taking walks for grocery shopping, etc.
- Remember stroke acronym BE-FAST (Balance, Eyes, Face, Arm, Speech and Time) for quick medical attention.

Staying safe with sanitiser

Roshne Balasubramanian

Wash your hands for a minimum of 30 seconds with soap and water after touching any surface', 'Do not touch your face, mouth and nose', 'Use a hand sanitiser to curb the spread of the virus'... Over the last eight months, people across the globe have, like never before, been mindful of their hand hygiene – washing and sanitising it at regular intervals. However, the growing paranoia of contracting the novel coronavirus through surface touch has effectively led to increased use of hand sanitisers, potentially increasing its effects on the skin. Dr Deepika Lunawat, consultant, Dermatology/Cosmetology, Fortis Malar Hospital, in Chennai, shares what the frequent use of sanitisers can do to the skin.

Rips off moisture

It's been advised to use sanitisers with at least 60 per cent alcohol to clean your hand. Although following the mandate is essential, excessively using sanitisers and constantly spraying it on the hands and palms, can lead the alcohol content in it to rip the skin off its natural moisturising factor. This will make the skin more prone to dermatitis.

Risk of eczema

Over usage of sanitisers can increase contact with irritants and allergens, increasing the risk of eczema. This often manifests in the form of dryness of the skin, redness, blisters, cracks and can also lead to itching. People who already suffer from the condition will become more prone to flareups.

Causes allergic reaction

Some sanitisers have the presence of an antibacterial and antifungal agent called triclosan. Excessive use of this could be a possible health hazard, leading to allergic reactions, while also making one antibiotic-resistant. The now prevailing cold weather will only further burden the condition. Some studies also project that excessive use may cause hormonal issues/imbalance, affect the immune system, affect fertility and foetal health, among others.

KEEP IN MIND

To prevent any damage, use soap and water to clean the hands, instead of picking a hand sanitiser. Make it a mindful practice to use a sanitiser only if soap and water aren't immediately available. After every handwash and after using a sanitiser, ensure to apply a moisturiser to your hand. Hyaluronic acid in moisturising creams will provide a hydrating film to the skin, protecting it from dryness, cracks and blisters. The goodness of moisturiser can be furthered by covering the hands with cotton gloves (before going to bed). This will add on to the moisturising effect. For those who don't have access to moisturisers, oil and ghee can also be used.

SOULFUL

Why should we get hurt?

I have been hurt, I have been shocked, I have had a great deal of pain, both physical and psychological, I have had a great many insults and so on and so on and so on. I am enclosed. and I feel I am a prisoner. Now how shall I approach this problem - you understand? What is my approach to it? Is my approach wanting to be free from this? You understand my question? Is my motive, which says, be free from this, therefore I have already started with a direction, therefore I am not investigating. the direction is going to guide me - you understand? I wonder if you grasp this. I am a prisoner, psychologically, specially psychologically, and I have a motive which is to break through this. the motive gives a direction, doesn't it? Be quite sure. Wherever there is a motive it obviously gives a particular line, particular direction, therefore I have already started in a direction, therefore I have stopped investigating. Is this clear? So am I free of motive in my investigation? If I am not free, then why, if I understand that any motive gives a direction and therefore it is impossible to investigate. That is, if I have a certain belief and I am rooted in that belief and I want to investigate, I can't. I have already started with a tremendous prejudice. So if I have a motive for my investigation then that motive makes the investigation in a particular direction, therefore it is not investigation at all. So am I free from motive in my examination why human beings are prisoners, psychological prisoners. You understand my question? First, are you free from it? You will be free from it when you see the truth - the truth that a motive gives a direction, and therefore you stop investigating. and hence you say, 'That's absurd, I'll drop it' - you follow? - it is a natural thing to drop a motive. I wonder if you understand this. You have understood this, sir?

That is - please be clear - if I want to be free from psychological prison which I have created, or others have created, or society has created, or my parents and so on, if my motive is to be free from the prison, then my eyes are focussed in a direction therefore I am not looking. Right? So I see I want to understand why I am enclosed, and I see also that if I have a motive it is not possible to investigate. That's simple. Therefore I have not motive. Right? Are you in that position? That any psychological investigation demands, it is necessary, that there should be no direction. That means you start with no belief, no - you are free of all that and therefore investigate. You understand? If I am a Buddhist and I have a certain direction, certain prejudices, I have read a great deal, and I am convinced of that, it is finished. Or a Catholic, it doesn't matter who it is.

So it is very important in order to investigate that there should be freedom to observe. and you can only observe when there is no direction, when there is no motive. Right? So have you dropped the motive? If you have dropped the motive then what is the prison? You understand? I have no motive, I am looking at 'what is', which is my prison - my various hurts, wounds, all the things we go through life which make us shrink, become like a snail that draws in. Now that is the fact, we are looking at that. What has happened? Is it that I have been hurt from childhood? - at home, school, college, university, all through life, being somewhat sensitive, a human being is hurt.

Exploring the six desires of a human mind

Director Arvind Kamath talks about his murder mystery, and the eager anticipation he feels ahead of its release on Nov. 27

Arvind Kamath

• CE Features

Making Arishadvarga was an organic process, says director Arvind Kamath, as he talks about his upcoming release, which is set to hit theatres on Nov. 27. "The film is about real people stuck in a situation of a murder, and how their interpersonal relationship works through the investigation gets unfolded in the story. Arishadvarga is nothing but six desires of the human mind," reveals the director. The story is inspired from the various happenings that he has observed around him, which he turned to fiction. "This is essentially a human drama packaged as a murder mystery to make it more interesting for the audience," he adds.

It is not every person's dream to become a filmmaker, but Arvind Kamath always wanted to get into the art of filmmaking, but took up engineering, and worked in the IT sector for 8-9 years. The forayed into cinema in 2010 and there has been no looking back for him since then. "I made an independent film, Innuendo, which went to a few film festivals. Then I started working in an ad agency and as a consultant for film festivals. I was simultaneously working on Arishadvarga," he says.

Arvind Kamath, who started work on the film in a regular manner in 2017, is still in the hangover stage, and hopes it will fade after the release. "This project saw an investment by people who trusted me and gave me the freedom, and I did not rush it," he says. He took a year for the post-production process. "The movie was ready in 2019, and we took it to various festivals. Just when we were planning to release it in early 2020, the pandemic happened. That caused the delay," he adds.

Arishadvarga starring Samyukta Hornad, Avinahs, Nanda Gopal, and Mahesh Bung among others has done the rounds of festivals in London, Singapore and Vancouver. Talking about how important it was for him, the director says, "Since it has a mainstream subject, we never worked at sending it to any festival, but it all happened. In my opinion, films going to festivals is like having a focused screening. This helps you interact with the audience and get their first reactions, and know whether we meet their expectations. It also gives a platform for the film's publicity and visibility," he says.

Arishadvarga will be the next new film to get released, after Mansore's ACT-1978, and the makers want to screen it only in around 50 theatres and have about 70 shows across Karnataka. "I am keeping my fingers crossed. We are taking a leap of faith by releasing it around this time," says the director, adding, "Going forward, when hundreds of theatres open up, the number of releases will also be high, and supply will become more than the demand. So it will be a risk later too, and we decided to do it now."

Mane Number 13 ready to spook viewers

Directed by Vivy Kathiresan and produced by Krishna Chaitanya, the bilingual film, made in Kannada and Tamil, will be out today

• CE Features

Mane Number 13, directed by Vivy Kathiresan, is about five friends who go on a spooky journey and how their curiosity makes their lives more difficult. The bilingual, also made in Tamil as 13 Aam Number Veedu, is getting released on Amazon Prime on Thursday. Bankrolled by Krishna Chaitanya, who produced films such as 6-5=2, Karva and Dia, the film features Ramana, Sanjeev, Chethan Gandharva, Aishwarya Gowda, Praveen Prem and Varsha Bollamma as lead characters. "The subject of the movie as well as the director was referred to me by actor Ramana. I did not pick up this topic going by my previous hits and the luck I saw with the horror genre. I was confident about the content," says the producer.

Krishna is known as one of the few producers who like to bring on board newcomers, and this is yet another film that brings in a bunch of freshers. "The big thing about Mane No. 13 is that the director has brought in a twist every 10 minutes. Whatever the viewers think might happen, is not what unfolds," he says, adding that with the present situation, one should be thankful to have the OTT platforms to release content, and that it is a more like gamble. "Having said that, whether on OTT or theatre, reaching out to the audience is the main factor," he adds.

Director Vivy Kathiresan has shot the entire film in one house, with just 10 minutes captured in the forest. "According to Krishna, films titled after the number 13 have been lucky and hits, and he hopes that the same will be the case with this film as well," says the director, adding, "No. 13 is associated with ghost stories, and that is one of the reasons we considered the number as the title. But that apart, the film connects with suspense and thrill, and it depends on audience perceptions."

Mane Number 13 has cinematography by Sandeep Sadashiv and music by A M Sha. J F Castro has handled the editing.

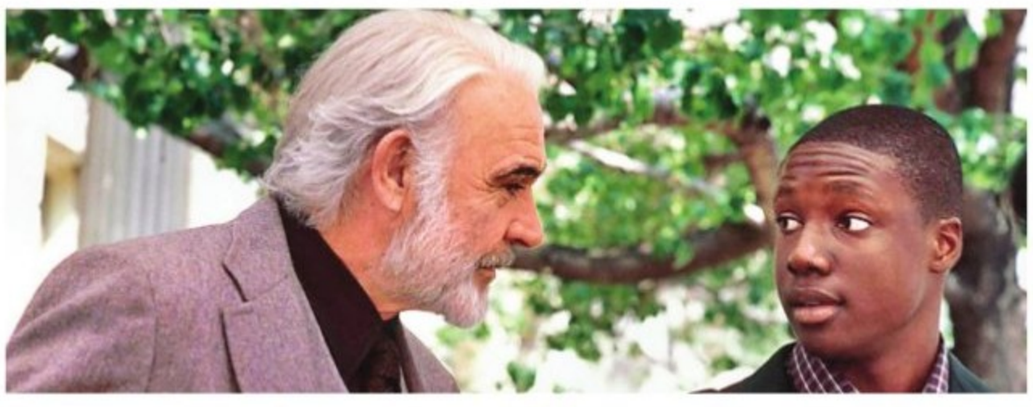
Finding Forrester reboot in the works by NBC

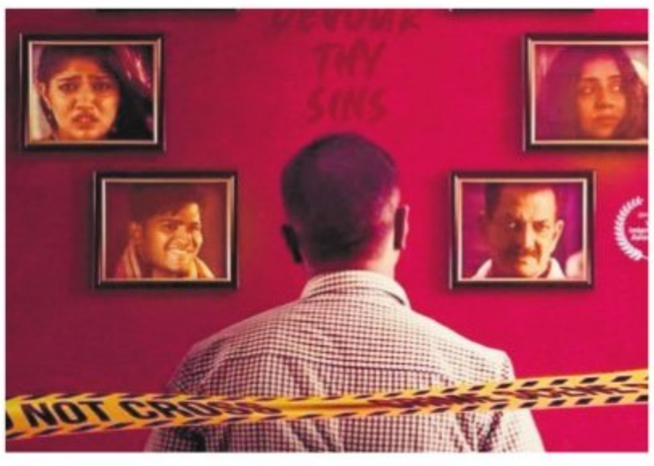


• CE Features

NBC is developing a drama based on the 2000 movie Finding Forrester.

The Sony Pictures TV project comes from writers T.J. Brady and Rasheed Newson (The Chi). Tim Story (Ride Along, 2019's Shaft) is attached to direct, and NBA star Stephen Curry is executive producing the project.

Finding Forrester, directed by Gus Van Sant and written by Mike Rich, starred Rob Brown as a high school basketball star and writing prodigy who finds a mentor in a reclusive writer, played by Sean Connery. NBC's adaptation will center on two Black characters: a homeless 16-year-old orphan whose basketball skills open the door to an elite boarding school, and a lesbian author whose career was ruined by scandal.

The potential series will also look at costs of success and redemption through the bond between the two characters.


Curry and Unanimous Media have a film and TV deal at Sony; the Finding Forrester development falls under that. Sony released the 2000 film, which made $80 million worldwide.
